Coach Cook Interviews

The best time to reach Coach John Cook for an interview is weekdays after practice. Interviews with Coach Cook should be scheduled through the Media Relations Office by calling (402) 472-7772. During the season, Cook will also have weekly press conferences preceding Coach Bo Pelini's football press conferences on Tuesdays on the sixth floor of the Don Bryant Media Facility at Memorial Stadium.

For home matches, NU's postgame news conference will be held following a brief cooling off period in the press room, located on the southeast corner on the second floor. The visiting team is housed in the visitor's locker room, located in the hallway off the southeast corner of the playing floor. Opposing coaches and players may be brought to the press room.

On the road, Cook will conduct a brief press conference immediately following his postgame radio show. Following Cook's press conference, Husker players will be available to the media.

Press Row Location

Press row for Nebraska volleyball games is located on the upper level of the Coliseum behind the east serving line of the playing floor. Broadcast Rights

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln and Husker Sports Network own exclusive radio broadcast rights to all of the University of Nebraska volleyball matches. Other than the Husker Sports Network and the University of Nebraska student station (KRNU), the only stations or networks that will be allowed to broadcast Nebraska matches from the NU Coliseum are those that have rights to broadcast games played by the opposing team. All radio stations and networks broadcasting from the NU Coliseum must have permission from the University and are subject to a rights fee. Any representative of a radio station or network that has not purchased such rights shall not air live match action or description of any match while it is in progress. Only stations that have purchased broadcast rights may install telephones on press row, or use telephones on press row for reporting on matches. By accepting media credentials, representatives of stations and networks that have not purchased broadcast rights signify their agreement to the above stipulations.

Internet Access

High-speed wireless Internet access is available on press row for Nebraska volleyball matches. For more information on how to access the network, contact Assistant Media Relations Director Shamus McKnight at (402) 472-7772.

Broadcast Telephone Lines

Visiting radio stations are welcome to have their own telephone lines installed on press row and may do so by contacting University of Nebraska Telecommunications at (402) 472-2000. However, the Husker Sports Network installs telephone lines for visiting official broadcasts and charges a fee for the use of those lines for non-conference games (Big 12 official stations receive the use of the lines free of charge as part of a cooperative). Stations interested in using the lines should contact Mike Elliott of the Husker Sports Network at (402) 430-7312.

Nebraska Volleyball on the Husker Sports Network

The Husker Sports Network will continue the strong tradition of broadcasting excellence in 2008 as it brings Husker volleyball to fans across the state. Every volleyball match this season is available to a network of 25 radio stations that reaches every corner of the state. KBBK 107.3 FM in Lincoln will serve as the flagship, while KHUS (93.3 FM) will return to the network and will carry every match in the Omaha market.

The Husker Sports Network, in its 14th year of producing and marketing the live broadcasts of University of Nebraska Athletics, extended and expanded its agreement with the University on June 13, 2008. Under the agreement, IMG College's Husker Sports Network will manage and market all rights associated with radio programming, coaches' TV and radio shows, program sales, sponsorship inventory and publication printing rights.

IMG College, which purchased Host Communications and the Husker Sports Network on Nov. 16, 2007, is the leader in developing integrated licensing, marketing and multi-media opportunities for the nation's top collegiate brands across local, regional and national platforms. In addition to Nebraska, IMG College represents athletic organizations from across the country including such universities as Arizona, Florida, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Oklahoma State, Oregon, Tennessee and Texas. IMG College partners include the NCAA and its 88 championships, NCAA football, leading conferences, some of the most prestigious universities and licensing for nearly 200 institutions. IMG College is a division of IMG, the world's premier sports, entertainment and media company. IMG employs more than 3,000 people in 30 countries. For more information, visit www.imgworld.com.

John Baylor enters his 14th year as the voice of the Nebraska volleyball program and brings his high-energy broadcasts throughout the state. He is joined by color analysts Lindsay Peterson and Diane Mendenhall.

In addition to broadcasting Husker matches, the Husker Sports Network also produces Sports Nightly, a daily, live call-in show focusing on NU athletics and other area sports. The show runs from 6 to 9 p.m. (central) across the state. During the season, Coach Cook will join Sports Nightly's Lane Grindle for a half-hour, call-in show on Husker volleyball.

THE BIG 12 CONFERENCE

The Big 12 Conference has established a consistent level of national success on the field and in the classroom as it enters its 13th season in 2008-09. Since it began play in 1996-97, the Conference can boast 31 team crowns and over 385 individual NCAA Championships. The success continued during 2007-08, as Kansas captured the Big 12's first national title in men's basketball, while the league added 31 individual crowns.

Over the past four seasons a total of 12 NCAA trophies have been hoisted by Big 12 institutions, with at least one national crown won in all but one year for the conference, including each of the past 11 seasons.

Dan Beebe
Commissioner

The Big 12 leads all conferences with five appearances in Bowl Championship Series title games. League squads have played for the football national championship five times in the last nine years with berths in 14 BCS games overall, including two in 2007. The Big 12 led all conferences with four teams ranked in the top 10 in the final national polls a season ago. In addition, an all-time high eight league players earned consensus All-America recognition in 2007, more than any other conference.

In basketball, nine men's and women's teams have advanced to their respective Final Fours in the past seven seasons as the Big 12 continues its place among the elite intercollegiate athletic conferences.

Carmen Branch
Volleyball Contact

The Big 12 and its member institutions are committed to a competitive environment where sportsmanship and fair play take center stage. Whether on the field, in the classroom, or within the community the student-athletes, administrators, coaches and game officials of the Big 12 support the highest ideals in sportsmanship.

Big 12 student-athletes also do well in garnering national academic recognition. Sarah Pavan (Nebraska) was named Academic All-America of the Year in volleyball the past two seasons by ESPN The Magazine and the College Sports Information Directors of America with a 4.0 grade-point average in biochemistry. In addition, she also won the national academic honor presented for all sports each of the last two years and was named recipient of the prestigious 2006-07 Honda-Broderick Award as Collegiate Woman Athlete of the Year. Pavan is the first athlete since the Big 12 was formed in 1996 to earn the accolade. In its history, the conference can boast of over 300 academic honorees, averaging more than 25 each season.

Competitive excellence, scholarship and sportsmanship are all equal components of the Big 12 philosophy. All-Big 12 teams and Academic All-Big 12 squads are recognized for each sport at the end of their respective seasons. At the end of each academic year, the conference honors its top male and female student-athletes with the Big 12 Athlete of the Year and Big 12 Sportsperson of the Year awards. Nebraska volleyball has had three athletes named Big 12 Female Student-Athlete of the Year, two-time winner Sarah Pavan (2006-07, 2007-08) and Greichaly Cepero (2000-01). Institutions can also nominate student-athletes for the prestigious Dr. Prentice Gautt Postgraduate Scholarships at the end of each academic year. A total of 201 scholars have received over $1.2 million in postgraduate financial aid through the first 12 years of the program.

The Big 12 sponsors 21 sports. Men's squads include baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, swimming & diving, tennis and wrestling. Women's teams are fielded in basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis and volleyball.

The conference is made up of 12 institutions that have shared many traditional rivalries throughout their histories. Member schools include - Baylor, Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech. The institutions created a league that encompasses seven states, over 45 million people and television households in 18 of the top 100 markets within its geographic footprint.

The conference conducts championships for 20 of its 21 sports. Each championship helps to determine teams and/or individuals that will represent the conference in national postseason competition. In the last several years the Big 12 has increased its bowl agreements and expanded television opportunities for all sports through contracts with ABC/ESPN, FSN and CBS College Sports. In its first 12 years, the conference has distributed more than $1 billion to its 12 member institutions. The Big 12 staff administers to over 4,600 student-athletes in 21 sports. The conference is headquartered in Irving, Texas.

2008 VOLLEYBALL SCHEDULE AND NOTES

2008 Schedule Notes

• Fourteen of Nebraska's 29 regular-season matches this season are against teams that qualified for last season's NCAA Tournament, including national runner-up Stanford, national semifinalist USC and regional qualifiers Texas, Cal Poly and Iowa State. In addition, NU could also face St. John's in the Ameritas Players Challenge.

• Six of Nebraska's 2008 opponents were ranked in the top 20 of the final 2007 CBS College Sports/AVCA Coaches poll (Stanford, USC, Texas, Cal Poly, Kansas State and Iowa State), while potential opponent St. John's was ranked 13th in the final poll.

• Nebraska will make its seventh appearance in the Runza/AVCA Showcase, after winning the event in 2001, 2005 and 2007. The format for the 2008 showcase features Nebraska and Texas of the Big 12 taking on USC and Stanford from the Pac-10 Conference. It is the first year of a three-year extension to host the event in Omaha.

• Nebraska is 202-10 (.953) in the NU Coliseum over the last 13 years. The Huskers have won 64 straight matches at the NU Coliseum dating back to September of 2004. In addition, NU has won its last 72 home matches, the third-longest streak in NCAA history.

• The 2008 campaign marks the 13th season of Big 12 volleyball. Last season, six teams - Nebraska, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas State, Missouri and Iowa State - qualified for the NCAA Tournament. Nebraska, Iowa State and Texas all reached an NCAA regional, as the Big 12's three regional qualifiers ranked second only to the Pac-10 among conferences.

• The Huskers have won 29 of 32 Big Eight/Big 12 titles. NU has won 10 of the 12 possible Big 12 regular-season titles – all but the 1997 and 2003 crowns – and claimed 17 Big Eight Tournament titles from 1976 to 1995. The Big 12 does not play a conference tournament.

• Since Nebraska began playing volleyball in 1975, the Huskers have lost only five home matches to conference opponents and only four regular-season league matches. Nebraska's all-time conference home record (Big Eight and Big 12 combined) is 244-4 (.984).

• All of Nebraska's 2008 matches will be carried on the Husker Sports Network, including KBBK (107.3 FM) in Lincoln, KTWI (93.3 FM) in Omaha, and on the Internet at Huskers.com.

NEBRASKA COLISEUM

The Wall of Honor was unveiled in 2003 to permanently showcase the greatest players in Nebraska volleyball history.

One of the foundations for Nebraska's athletic success is its outstanding facilities, and few home courts in the country are as tradition-rich as the Nebraska Coliseum, the home of the Husker volleyball program. Over the years, the 4,030-seat NU Coliseum has provided the Nebraska volleyball program with an unmatched home-court advantage.

"Winston Churchill said 'in the beginning, we build buildings. In the end, we are shaped by the buildings we live in.' I think the Coliseum shapes Nebraska volleyball," Former Nebraska volleyball coach Terry Pettit said. "It's an environment that creates intimacy. It's a classic structure and in a lot of ways reflects what the Nebraska program is all about."

The Coliseum, which sits nestled on the University campus, is a beautiful display of architecture highlighted by its powerful Roman columns gracing the front steps. But while it's beauty is appreciated by Husker players, coaches and fans, it is one of the most dreaded places for opponents to play in the sport of volleyball, and arguably one of the toughest places to play in college athletics.

"If the volleyball gods wanted to build a volleyball court, the Coliseum would be it," NU coach John Cook said. "It's a very intimate setting. Everyone feels part of the event."

During the Terry Pettit/John Cook era, the Huskers have qualified for 26 consecutive NCAA Tournaments, and the Coliseum crowd has willed the Huskers to many victories in the historic building. Cook credited the NU Coliseum crowd with willing the Huskers to a come-from-behind, 3-2 win over South Carolina in the 2000 NCAA second round that kept the Huskers' national championship season alive.

Nebraska volleyball has had unmatched success in the confines of the cozy Coliseum, posting 15 undefeated seasons and compiling an all-time record of 454-30 (.938) under its roof. The Huskers are 169-12 (.934) since 1990 in the building, including 10 undefeated seasons in that span.

While these numbers are impressive, Big 12 and former Big Eight members managed even fewer wins. That's because Nebraska doesn't lose to conference opponents in the Coliseum.

Only three times in 32 years of regular-season Big Eight/Big 12 play has a conference opponent ever won on the Coliseum floor. In fact, during that time, only three conference opponents have managed to win in Lincoln. Nebraska suffered its first-ever regular-season loss to a conference foe in 1999, falling to Kansas State to snap a streak of 101 consecutive wins against regular-season conference opponents. Under John Cook, the Huskers have dropped only two Big 12 home matches at the Coliseum over the last eight years and none since 2004.

Cook and Pettit said the home-court advantage is most valuable during its long, hard-fought battles.

"You feel incredibly confident when you get into a fifth game in the Coliseum because of the electricity in tight matches," Cook said.

"The home crowd was a big advantage when we were fatigued or drained in the middle of a four- or five-game match," Pettit said. "The players used the energy and electricity from the fans to pull them through difficult stretches. I don't think that it's as big an advantage against the elite teams, but it definitely makes a difference."

Nebraska has used that success at home to propel it through the NCAA Tournament.

The Huskers have hosted an NCAA Tournament match every season since 1984 and have capitalized on each opportunity by compiling a 45-3 playoff record in the stoic building. And Nebraska fans have been rewarded by seeing eight of the Huskers' 10 NCAA regional championships won on their home court.

Nebraska carried a 65-match Coliseum win streak into the 1999 season, but suffered a loss to No. 6 Pacific in the State Farm/NACWAA Classic semifinal. In 2002, the Huskers carried a 63-match home winning streak into its NCAA regional final match against Hawaii, but fell, 3-1. Nebraska begins the 2008 season with a 64-match home winning streak in the Nebraska Coliseum dating back nearly four seasons, part of a remarkable 72-match home win streak for the Huskers.

The win streaks are a direct result of Nebraska's frenzied crowds that routinely jam the building's bleachers. The Huskers finished second nationally in attendance in 2007 with a Coliseum average attendance of 4,128, a total that is 102 percent of the Coliseum's listed capacity. Single-match tickets in 2007 sold out in just 45 minutes, as fans began lining up the day before to get their hands on the precious tickets.

"To appreciate the athleticism and the speed of the game, you have to be down close and the Coliseum provides that intimate setting," Cook said about the NU Coliseum atmosphere.

Fans have been known to line up as much as four to five hours in advance to see their Husker volleyball team in action. During the 2007 season, fans set an NCAA regular-season attendance mark of 13,396 for a match against Hawaii in the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Nebraska has averaged more than 3,000 fans for 14 of the past 16 seasons.

The Coliseum's roots go back to the 1920s when it was the home for the Husker basketball team. NU's cagers played on its hardwood floors from 1926 to 1977, when the construction on the Bob Devaney Sports Center was completed.

Since then, the volleyball team has been its lone tenant. In 1991, the Huskers had a one-year hiatus from the Coliseum while the building was being renovated and tailored for volleyball. The renovation provided a more comfortable atmosphere for players, coaches and fans. Among the additions were a new sound system, scoreboard, overhead lights and a new floor. Offices for coaches and administrators, as well as a conference/media room, were constructed for a better working environment.

Over the years, the building has seen numerous additions to add to the comfort of both players and fans, while keeping the tradition of the building and the Husker volleyball program. Over the past decade, locker rooms, training areas and coaches offices have all been upgraded to provide Husker student-athletes with some of the best facilities in the country. For fans, HuskerVision replay boards, a new scoreboard and new displays have been added, recognizing the great heritage and tradition of the program.

Additional seating for fans was created in 2005, with the addition of the Husker Courtside Club. This added 60 premium seats on the Coliseum floor, giving fans an up-close view of all of the exciting volleyball action, and making Nebraska one of the first programs in the country to add premium courtside seating for volleyball.

The NU Coliseum was the home of the Nebraka's men's basketball team until the Bob Devaney Sports Center opened in the mid-1970s.

The Husker Courtside Club was established in 2005, providing fans an up-close view of Husker volleyball.

Herbie Husker was chosen as the 2006 mascot of the year.

The Cornhusker Legend

Before 1900, Nebraska football teams were known by such names as the Old Gold Knights, Antelopes, Rattlesnake Boys and the Bugeaters. In its first two seasons (1890-91), Nebraska competed as the Old Gold Knights, but beginning in 1892, Nebraska adopted Scarlet and Cream as its colors and accepted the Bugeaters as its most popular nickname until the turn of the century. Named after the insect-devouring bull bats that hovered over the plains, the Bugeaters also found their prey in the Midwest, enjoying winning campaigns in every year of the 1890s until a disappointing season in 1899.

After its first losing season in a decade, it must have seemed only fitting that Nebraska move in a new direction, and Lincoln sportswriter Charles S. (Cy) Sherman, who was to gain national renown as the sports editor of the Lincoln Star and help to originate the Associated Press poll, provided the nickname that has gained fame for more than a century. Sherman tired of referring to the Nebraska teams with such an unglamorous term as Bugeaters. Iowa had, from time to time, been called the Cornhuskers, and the name appealed to Sherman. Iowa partisans seemed to prefer Hawkeyes, so Sherman started referring to the Nebraska team as Cornhuskers, and the 1900 team was first to bear that label.

Of course, the name caught on and became a Nebraska byword, eventually becoming the official nickname for the state.

There was no official symbol of a Cornhusker, and various cartoonists have caricatured the mystical something that typifies Nebraska football—some winning fan approval and others arousing fan ire.

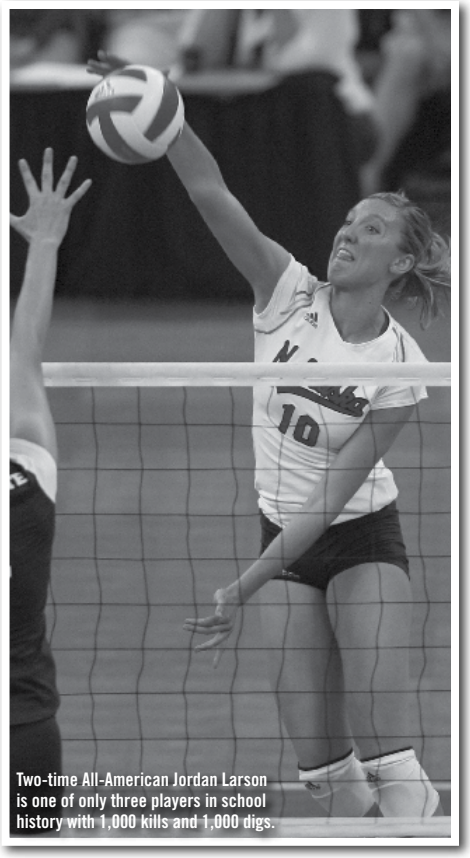
The cartoon character, "Herbie Husker," evolved out of Nebraska's trip to the 1974 Cotton Bowl in Dallas. Artist Dirk West of Lubbock, Texas, designed a Cornhusker cartoon for the Cotton Bowl press headquarters that caught the eye of former Husker SID Don Bryant. Later, Bryant contacted West for permission to use the cartoon, and West expressed a desire to refine his original cartoon and improve some of the character's features. As a result, West was commissioned to draw an original Cornhusker cartoon character that served as a mascot for all Husker athletic teams.

"Herbie" is the registered logo of the Cornhusker Athletic Department, which controls its use. West's concept of Nebraska football is appropriate—a burly, rugged and confident fellow who is proud of both the athletic and the agricultural traditions of the University of Nebraska.

In 2003, "Herbie" enjoyed a resurgence in the spotlight as he underwent a makeover, helping him better portray Nebraska's "image of strength and power." A new and improved "Herbie" was unveiled Aug. 30, 2003.

Along with Herbie, the athletic department unveiled Lil' Red, the Cornhuskers' contemporary mascot, in 1994. Lil' Red has been commonly seen on the sideline of all Nebraska athletic teams in recent years and remains NU's official mascot along with "Herbie."

HUSKERS RELOAD FOR BIG 12 TITLE RUN



Two-time All-American Jordan Larson is one of only three players in school history with 1,000 kills and 1,000 digs.

Kori Cooper ranked seventh in the Big 12 with a .356 hitting percentage in 2007.

Kayla Banwarth started NU's last nine matches at libero and averaged 4.24 digs per set in that stretch.

For teams around the country, a new season brings new challenges, and it is no different at Nebraska. Following the departure of four AVCA All-Americans and the most successful senior class in school history, people have pegged the Huskers to be in a rebuilding mode this year.

To Nebraska Coach John Cook, the upcoming season reminds him of 2003, when the Huskers replaced another legendary group of seniors with a class of six newcomers. That class became the foundation of the 2006 national title team, and Cook sees the same trait with this year's group - senior leadership.

"What I've seen so far is that Jordan (Larson), Rachel (Schwartz) and Amanda (Gates) understand what needs to be done in the offseason and summer, and what it takes to be a great team," Cook said. "They have the experience of winning a title and have been a major part of our success over the years. We are bringing in five new players, and our seniors have been proactive in making them feel comfortable and helping to build relationships that are needed to be successful."

While others see a squad short on experience, Cook sees a hungry team that is anxious to prove the doubters wrong. He was impressed by the Huskers' efforts in the spring season, and understands the 2008 Huskers can only reach their goals if they play together and use their collective strengths.

"Our margin for error will be less than last year, especially with the scoring change (going from 30 points per set to 25)," Cook said. "The thing I was most encouraged about during the spring was our ability to be an exceptional serving, passing and defensive team. I saw us play at a very high level in those areas. We have the potential to make teams very uncomfortable with our serving and defense, and our ability to side out at a high level.

"If we can pass the ball in system, we have the hitters who can put the ball away. We will have to rely on them and be better with our first contact."

Libero/Defensive Specialist

If the Huskers are going to be a strong defensive team, the play of Rachel Schwartz and Kayla Banwarth will key Nebraska's defensive efforts. Cook said one of the most competitive position battles in the fall will come here, as the pair split time at libero and defensive specialist in 2007.

"Rachel and Kayla are battling for the starting libero position, and both will have chances to make significant contributions because of our personnel," Cook said.

Schwartz started the majority of 2007 at the libero spot, ranking 11th in the Big 12 with a career-best 3.66 digs per set. She had 17 matches with at least 10 digs, including a career-high 21 digs in a five-set victory over Missouri. In addition, she has been one of the Huskers' top servers throughout her career.

"Rachel showed that she can play at a high level at either libero or defensive specialist over the last two years," Cook said. "She has a great opportunity to make a major impact on the success of our team, and is looking forward to a strong senior year."

Banwarth's emergence as a freshman last season was a welcome development for the Huskers. She saw more time as the season progressed, starting NU's final nine matches at libero, where she averaged 4.24 digs per set. Banwarth reached double figures in eight of her nine starts, including all four NCAA Tournament matches.

"The experience that Kayla gained last year was valuable in her development," Cook said. "She was in a lot of meaningful matches for us at the end of the season, and the game started to slow down for her. We saw that during the spring when she was one of our best passers."

Middle Blockers

Arguably the deepest part of the roster, the Huskers have five middle blockers on the roster, including two-year starter Kori Cooper and senior Amanda Gates.

Cooper emerged as a go-to performer during her sophomore year, averaging 2.31 kills and 1.01 blocks per set last year. She was seventh in the conference with a .356 hitting percentage. Cooper reached double figures in kills seven times, including a career-high 14 kills against Missouri. She hit .400 or better in both of the Huskers' NCAA Regional matches and has continued that maturation during the spring, moving her to the other middle blocking position to take advantage of her talents.

"One of the things we have looked at is moving Kori to the M1 spot, where she would be able to get more opportunities to attack," Cook said. "It would be a different role for her, but it was something we worked on in the spring and it suited her well. She had a great spring, and continues to get better in all areas of her game."

While Cooper is one of the Huskers' top offensive threats, Gates has been a top-notch defender throughout her career. She averaged 1.29 kills and 0.81 blocks per set in 16 matches a year ago, and had a career-high 10 blocks against San Diego as a sophomore. Gates showed an improved offensive attack in 2007, putting down eight kills on .429 hitting in a start against Texas A&M. Cook said that Gates is focused on putting together her best campaign this fall.

"Amanda is the hardest worker in our program, and I don't think there is a more motivated player to be on the court in our program," Cook said. "She knows this is her senior year and her chance. She's been backing up some great players, and Amanda will give everything she has for her senior season."

Brooke Delano, who redshirted last year, is one of the most intriguing prospects on the Husker roster. A two-time Super-State and All-Nebraska selection from Bellevue West, Delano backed up two-time All-American Tracy Stalls last year, and could contend for a starting position this fall. Delano, who has exceptional athleticism and size, is talented enough to play on the outside or at right side hitter, presenting several matchup problems for opponents.

"Brooke's presence on the court was tremendous for a redshirt freshman in the spring," Cook said. "She communicates at a high level and works hard to get in position, especially in transition, and that is not an easy concept for freshmen to grasp. She had more attempts than any of our middles in the spring, because she wants the ball and she works hard to get good swings."

Jordan Wilberger redshirted in her first season at Nebraska, but the walk-on has impressed her coaches and teammates in making the transition to Division I. Wilberger, a second-team all-state honoree in 2006, was impressive during the spring and her continued development allows Cook an opportunity to move one of the other middle blockers to improve depth across the board.

"When Jordan got here last fall, she was a little behind the others, but has really worked hard to catch up," Cook said. "When we played her in the spring, she did everything nearly perfect and has a much better understanding of our system. She took a big step forward in the spring and has a chance to help us this year."

Freshman Allison McNeal is the only newcomer to the Huskers' middle blocking corps, but could contend for significant playing time as a freshman. A two-time all-state performer from Texas, McNeal was rated as the No. 4 senior in the country by prepvolleyball.com in 2008. She totaled 399 kills and 208 blocks as a senior, including 10 matches with at least 10 blocks. A state champion high jumper, McNeal could also play any of the outside hitter positions early in her career.

"Allison is typical of many of the players in our program, as she was an excellent multi-sport athlete in high school who is just beginning to realize her volleyball potential," Cook said. "She has great jumping ability and is able to create angles that some of our players can't because of her athletic ability."

Outside Hitters

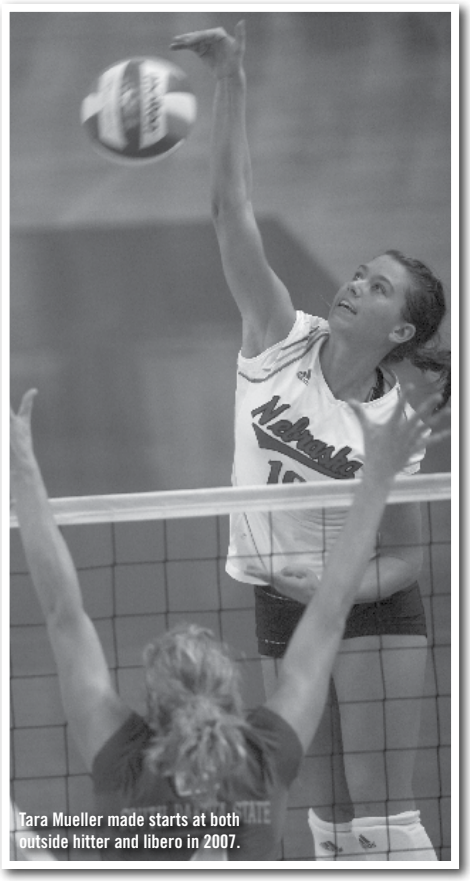
Nebraska's attack has showcased the all-around abilities of its outside hitters. Last year, both Christina Houghtelling and Jordan Larson earned All-America honors, and Larson will have an opportunity to become only the sixth outside attacker in school history to be a three-time AVCA All-American.

Sophomore Tara Mueller returns after backing up both outside spots last year, while NU also welcomes one of the nation's top outside hitting recruits in freshman Kaitlynn James. She was a Volleyball Magazine Fab 50 selection and was rated among the top-20 freshmen in the country, regardless of position.

Larson has been one of the nation's premier outside hitters throughout her Husker career. She begins her senior year with 1,137 kills and is on NU's top-10 list in both digs and service aces. Last year, she posted 3.45 kills, 3.18 digs and a Big 12-best 0.51 service aces per set, while topping the Huskers with 11 double-doubles. Larson is already one of only three players in school history with more than 1,000 kills and digs.

"Jordan's role dramatically changes this year," Cook said. "She is our go-to player now. She has an opportunity to show that she can lead a team, and that is something she has always wanted to do. We've challenged her to be in the best shape of her career in order to physically carry that load, and Jordan is anxious to prove that she is one of the best players in the country."

Mueller came into the Husker program with high expectations, and performed admirably as a true freshman, backing up both All-America outside hitters. She appeared in 13 matches, averaging 1.27 kills, 0.95 digs and 0.36 blocks per set in limited duty. Fans got a sneak preview of her abilities in the NCAA Tournament, when she came off the bench to drill nine kills on .316 hitting in a second-round win over Wichita State. Cook said that Mueller was the Huskers' most improved player during the spring, setting the stage for a strong sophomore campaign.



Tara Mueller made starts at both outside hitter and libero in 2007.

"Tara's experience in the NCAA Tournament will really help her understand what it takes to be successful at this level," Cook said. "She had a great spring and has built off of her freshman year. Tara has the potential to play at an All-Big 12 level this year."

James brings impressive credentials into the Husker program after earning first-team All-America honors her last two high school seasons. The Gatorade Player of the Year in Kentucky, James averaged 5.80 kills, 3.80 digs and 1.20 blocks per set for national power Assumption High School. She underwent shoulder surgery in April, and her health will determine the extent of her playing time this fall.

"Kaitlynn is one of the most competitive players we have recruited in my time at Nebraska," Cook said. "She not only loves to play volleyball, but loves to win and that is evident when she steps on the court. Kaitlynn is a dynamic attacker who jumps out of the gym. She is coming off shoulder surgery in the spring, and we will take our time making sure she is completely healthy before she returns to action."

The biggest pair of shoes to fill is on the right side, where four-time All-American Sarah Pavan left a legacy as one of the finest players in NCAA history. Sophomore Lindsey Licht backed up Pavan last year and has the potential to continue Nebraska's string of dominant right side attackers.

"To be a top-10 program, you have to have that dominant right side attack," Cook said. "We've lived on that at Nebraska, and Lindsey has the opportunity to be the next great right side player in this program. She has the ability to be a consistent point scorer and also shut down opposing hitters with her blocking."

As a freshman, Licht appeared in 25 matches, averaging 0.59 kills per set in limited duty. She had her best match of the year with two kills and a solo block in a sweep against No. 22 Oklahoma, and had four kills and three digs against Creighton. At 6-foot-5 and with a long left-handed swing, Licht has the size and ability to become a major part of the Huskers' success over the next three years.

Setter

The retirement of two-time All-American Rachel Holloway in January along with the graduation of three-year letterwinner Maggie Griffin changed the dynamics of the setter position at NU. The Huskers have three setters on the 2008 roster, including transfers Sydney Anderson and Jessica Yanz, but none of the three have played a match for the Huskers. Freshman Brigette Root joins the pair of transfers after walking on to the Husker program in the fall.

Anderson comes to Nebraska following a stint with the U.S. National Team in Colorado Springs last season. Two years ago, Anderson was the starting setter at Utah, leading the Utes to a 28-4 record, as she averaged 12.45 assists and 2.77 digs per set. The AVCA West Regional Freshman of the Year in 2006, Anderson posted nine double-doubles that season, including a 64-assist, 19-dig effort against Wyoming. She also notched six matches with at least 50 assists. A former Volleyball Magazine Fab 50 pick, Anderson begins fall camp penciled in as the Huskers' starting setter, and Cook believes that Anderson is more than ready to make an immediate impact.

"Sydney is not only a great player, as she has shown in the USA program, but she is someone people gravitate to and has a personality that fits in well with this team," Cook said. "She plays with a great passion and energy, and will be a fan favorite and team leader in our program."

Freshman Brigette Root will back up Anderson after a decorated high school career. A two-time all-state selection, Root led Grand Island to consecutive Class A runner-up finishes in 2006 and 2007. She led Class A in assists last year with 1,174, while also chipping in 214 digs and 49 service aces to help the Islanders to a 29-6 record.

"Brigette is an important recruit for us and will have a significant role as a true freshman," Cook said. "She comes from a volleyball background, as her dad is one of the most successful coaches in the state, and has an understanding of our program. She gives us depth at the setter spot, and we will train her to be ready to play for us this year."

Yanz will also provide depth at the position, as she sits out the 2008 season because of NCAA transfer rules. Yanz was the backup setter at NCAA champion Penn State for the past two seasons before coming to Nebraska in January. She appeared in 18 matches last year, averaging 6.33 assists per set. Yanz, a former Fab 50 selection, made four starts in 2007, helping Penn State hit .477 in those contests.

"Jessica is a great player and anytime you can get a player of her caliber into the gym, it raises the level of everyone in practice and in training," Cook said. "Her challenge is to look at practices this year as matches and to compete every day to push us."

2008 HUSKER VOLLEYBALL NOTEBOOK

An NCAA regular-season record crowd of 13,396 was on hand for Nebraska's match with Hawaii at the Devaney Center on Oct. 21, 2007.

Huskers Reach 1,000-Win Plateau

The Nebraska volleyball program reached the 1,000-win club in 2007, becoming one of only five Division I programs to win at least 1,000 matches. The Huskers' 1,029 wins all-time ranks second only to UCLA's 1,060 victories.

Huskers Continue Big 12 Dominance

Nebraska's Big 12 title in 2007 continues one of the most successful runs in NCAA history. The Huskers have won or shared 10 Big 12 titles in the last 12 years and 29 Big Eight/Big 12 crowns in 32 years. Since the Big 12's inception in 1996, Nebraska is 225-15 (.938) in Big 12 matches, including 154-6 under Head Coach John Cook.

Nebraska: All-American U

Nebraska continued its string of All-America success in 2007 with a school-record five Huskers earning AVCA All-America accolades. Rachel Holloway, Christina Houghtelling, Jordan Larson, Sarah Pavan and Tracy Stalls were all selected, upping Nebraska's NCAA-leading totals to 29 players and 62 certificates. Nebraska has had at least one All-American every season since 1983, a total of 26 straight seasons, including 27 All-America awards in Cook's eight seasons at Nebraska.

NU Coliseum Sellout Streak Reaches 106

Nebraska will carry a streak of 106 consecutive sellouts at the NU Coliseum into the 2008 season. The Huskers sold out all 14 regular-season matches at the Coliseum in 2007 on the first day that tickets were sold to the general public. The sellout streak began with a 10-match stretch to close the 2001 campaign, and has carried over through the last six seasons. The last non-sellout came on Sept. 25, 2001, against Creighton.

On Sept. 2, Nebraska and Penn State played in front of a crowd of 13,081 at Qwest Center Omaha. The record lasted only six weeks, as the Huskers faced Hawaii in front of a sellout crowd of 13,396 at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on Oct. 21.

Success in the Classroom

Nebraska continued to excel in the classroom in 2007, as three Huskers - Christina Houghtelling, Sarah Pavan and Tracy Stalls - earned first-team ESPN the Magazine Academic All-America honors. The Huskers have had national-leading 32 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in volleyball, including at least one in 20 of the past 24 seasons. In July of 2008, Nebraska was also awarded the AVCA GamePlan Academic Team award for the 13th time, the most of any Division I program.

NCAA Changes for 2008 Season

Fans may notice several changes that have been implemented for the 2008 season. Here are some of the more significant changes for the upcoming year:

Rule Changes

Coaches Position. When the ball is in play, coaches will be asked to stay at least 1.75 meters from the court's sideline. An imaginary line perpendicular to the outside edge of the extended attack line indicates this distance. If a coach doesn't comply, the referees may assess a team delay sanction.

Terminology.: The term "game" will be changed to "set." A match still consists of the best three out of five sets.

Points Required to Win a Set: Instead of 30 points, the number of points needed to win sets one through four is now 25 (and a two-point lead). Fifteen points (and a two-point lead) is still the requirement to win the fifth (deciding) set.

Substitutions: Each team is now allowed a maximum of 12 substitutions per set.

Points of Emphasis

Ball-Handling Decisions. In recent years, referee training has emphasized focusing on the player's contact point with the ball, and not allowing outside influences, such as spin after release, to influence ball-handling decisions. A 2008 point of emphasis regarding the second team contact now instructs referees to only call multiple contacts that are obvious enough to be readily seen, and to be less severe when judging extremely athletic plays.

2008: Outlook

Throughout the eight years that John Cook has been in charge of the Husker program, middle blocker has been a featured position, and junior Kori Cooper has the ability to become NU's next All-American at the spot • Was arguably the Huskers' most improved performer in 2007, averaging 2.31 kills and 1.01 blocks per set while ranking seventh in the league with a .356 hitting percentage • Became more of a focal point in the offense, reaching double figures in kills seven times, including 12 kills on .417 hitting in a comeback win over No. 24 Michigan State in the 2007 NCAA Madison Regional • Can play either middle blocker spot, and may move into the M1 position to take advantage of her offensive talents • Developed into a fan favorite at the NU Coliseum for the energy and enthusiasm she brings to the court • Will contend for CoSIDA Academic All-America honors this year as she carries a 3.81 GPA in speech language pathology.

"One of the things we have looked at is moving Kori to the M1 spot, where she would be able to get attacking opportunities," Coach John Cook said. "It would be a different role for her, but it was something we worked on in the spring and it suited her well. She had a great spring, and continues to get better in all areas of her game. Kori has worked on being a more physical player to allow her to get more swings and be a focal point of our offense."

Kayla Banwarth (pronounced BAN-worth) made the most of her playing time as a true freshman and is in line to make major contributions for the Huskers this fall • Former three-time all-state pick in Iowa saw limited time in the first half of the 2007 season before earning significant playing time down the stretch • Worked as NU's defensive specialist before sliding into the libero spot, as she appeared in 22 matches • Started the last nine matches - including all four NCAA Tournament matches - at libero, averaging 4.24 digs per set • Became the first Husker freshman to earn the full-time starting spot at libero since Amanda McCormick in 2003 • Possesses a strong work ethic and is one of the Huskers' best passers and servers • Will battle senior Rachel Schwartz for the starting position at libero with the other serving as NU's defensive specialist in three rotations • Is the first Iowa native on the Nebraska roster since current U.S. National Team member Nancy Metcalf in 2001.

"The experience that Kayla got last year was valuable in her development," Coach John Cook said. "She was in a lot of meaningful matches for us at the end of the season, and the game started to slow down for her. We saw that during the spring when she was one of our best passers. Having her and Rachel Schwartz share time at both libero and defensive specialist allows us to get our best defensive team on the floor."

2007: Freshman

Banwarth became a major contributor as a true freshman, winning the starting job at libero during the second half of the year • Took some time to get acclimated to the college ranks, as she played just two points in the Huskers' first 10 contests before gradually earning more playing time and starting NU's final nine matches • Appeared in 22 matches in 2007, averaging 2.75 digs, 0.45 assists and 0.17 service aces per set • Started the last nine matches at libero, averaging 4.24 digs and 0.69 assists per set, as NU held its final nine foes to a combined .136 hitting percentage • Reached double figures in digs eight times in the last nine matches, including a career-high 21 digs against No. 24 Michigan State at the NCAA Madison Regional on Dec. 7 • Totaled 10 digs and three assists during the NCAA Regional final against sixth-ranked California on Dec. 8 • Turned in one of her best efforts in the regional semifinals against No. 24 Michigan State, setting personal bests in both digs (21) and service aces (two) in the comeback win • Her 21 digs against MSU was the second-best postseason total by a freshman in school history • Averaged 4.50 digs, 0.50 assists and .33 service aces per set during the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament, leading the Huskers in digs in both contests • Recorded 14 digs versus South Dakota State, helping limit the Jackrabbits to -.053 hitting on Nov. 30 • Collected 14 digs in helping the Huskers hold Baylor to .086 hitting on Nov. 21 • Totaled 13 digs in helping to hold No. 22 Oklahoma to a season-low .122 hitting on Nov. 17 • Recorded 11 digs, as NU held Texas A&M to a season-low .099 hitting on Nov. 14 • Made her first career start against Iowa State on Nov. 11, thrilling over 40 family and friends with then-career bests in digs (19) and assists (five) in a sweep of the Cyclones • Played all five sets as a back row specialist at No. 12 Kansas State on Nov. 3, totaling four digs and an ace • Recorded five digs in the finale against Kansas on Oct. 20 • Started the final set against Kansas at libero on Sept. 26, totaling five digs and a pair of aces.

High School

Banwarth was one of the nation's top high school seniors playing for coaches Julie Kieffer and Tom Keating at Wahlert Catholic High School • Totaled 1,155 kills, 1,093 digs and 364 aces during her four-year career, as Wahlert Catholic won three Iowa Class 3A state titles (2003-05) • Finished her career holding school marks for career digs and aces • Named an alternate for the 2007 U.S. Junior National Team • Tabbed a Volleyball Magazine Fab 50 selection and ranked the No. 62 player nationally by Prepvolleyball.com • Chosen as the Iowa Gatorade Player of the Year in 2006 after averaging 4.00 kills, 3.70 digs and 1.43 aces per game • Led WCHS to a 31-7 record and the state semifinals • Garnered Prepvolleyball.com All-America honors as a senior, as she established single-season school records for digs (372) and service aces (142) while adding 396 kills on .316 hitting • Totaled 14 aces in one match as a senior • Was a three-time Iowa Elite Team selection (all-state, all classes) in each of her final three seasons • Chosen the Iowa Player of the Year as a junior after averaging 3.50 kills and 3.80 digs per set • Named the Class 3A Player of the Year for three consecutive years (2004-06) • Played club volleyball for the Six Pack Volleyball Club and Coach Jay Grassley, helping the program to an appearance at the Junior Olympic Nationals in 2007 • Lettered four seasons in softball, earning second-team Class 3A all-state accolades in 2006 • Excelled in the classroom as well, graduating with high honors and earning the Presidential Achievement Award • Selected NU over a host of schools, including Iowa State, Northern Iowa, Iowa, Duke, New Mexico State, Florida State and College of Charleston.

LINDSEY LICHT #4

Lindsey Licht (pronounced LITE) is one of several sophomores who will be counted on in bigger roles this fall • Former Volleyball Magazine Fab 50 pick played in 25 matches as a freshman, averaging 0.59 kills per set in limited duty • Backed up four-time All-American Sarah Pavan on the right side and saw time when the Huskers shifted into 6-2 offensive sets • Possesses the size and blocking ability to become a difference-maker for the Huskers before her career is completed • Tied Pavan as the tallest player in school history, as her 6-foot-5 frame and long left-handed swing provides matchup problems for foes • Was much improved during her second spring at NU after being slowed by a foot injury when she arrived in the Husker program in January of 2007 • Comes from the Front Range Volleyball Club in Colorado, the same program that produced former Husker All-Americans Rachel Holloway and Tracy Stalls.

"We've seen Lindsey be a dominant player at times, especially defensively, during the spring and that was very encouraging," Coach John Cook said. "She has the ability to be a consistent point scorer and also shut down opposing hitters with her blocking. To be a top-10 program, you have to have that dominant right side attack. We've lived on that at Nebraska, and she has the opportunity to be the next great right side player in this program."

Husker volleyball fans got a sneak preview of the 2008 season during last year's NCAA Tournament, as Tara Mueller (pronounced MUHL-er) saw extensive time at outside hitter in replacing an injured Christina Houghtelling • Mueller, who played just 10 matches in the regular season, was up to the challenge, drilling 14 kills in wins over South Dakota State and Wichita State, including a career-best nine kills against WSU • Averaged 1.27 kills and 0.95 digs per set in 13 matches as a true freshman, getting into eight Big 12 contests • Started matches at both libero and outside hitter as a freshman, showing off her wide range of talent • Will step into the outside hitter spot vacated by Houghtelling, a two-time All-American and 2005 AVCA National Player of the Year • Former two-time Arizona Player of the Year possesses tremendous athleticism with solid all-around skills that allow her to play in every rotation • Played with the U.S. Youth National Team in 2007, serving as the starting libero at the U-20 World Championships and helping Team USA to a fourth-place finish in the event • Is the first Husker volleyball player from Arizona.

"Tara's experience in the NCAA Tournament will really help her understand what it takes to be successful at this level," Nebraska Coach John Cook said. "She had a great spring and has built off of her freshman year. Tara has the potential to play at an All-Big 12 level this year."

2007: Freshman

Mueller was one of three freshmen who played a significant role in helping the Huskers to a 30-2 record and an NCAA regional final appearance • Trained at outside hitter and saw time at libero during the year, appearing in 13 matches • Averaged 1.27 kills on .211 hitting, 0.95 digs and 0.36 blocks per set in backing up two-time All-Americans Christina Houghtelling and Jordan Larson • Played extensively in the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament, as Houghtelling battled back spasms • Turned in her finest performance as a Husker in a second-round win over Wichita State, totaling a career-high nine kills on .316 hitting and her first career solo block in a sweep of the Shockers • Started at outside hitter against South Dakota State in NU's NCAA opener, turning in a then-career high five kills and two blocks in a 3-0 Husker sweep • Appeared in half of the Huskers' Big 12 matches, averaging 1.20 kills per set on .259 hitting • Came off the bench for the final two kills in a sweep at Missouri on Oct. 17 • Shined in the finale against Baylor on Sept. 29, totaling four kills without an error on eight swings, as NU hit .500 as a team against the Bears • Matched her then-season high with four kills on eight swings and added a pair of digs against Iowa State on Oct. 10 • Showed her versatility, as she started against New Mexico State at libero on Sept. 8, finishing with eight digs and three assists while helping NU hold the Aggies to .161 hitting • Made her college debut against Creighton on Aug. 31, totaling a pair of kills and three blocks in the final two sets from the outside hitter spot.

High School

Mueller was considered one of the best high school volleyball players to ever come out of Arizona, playing for Desert Mountain High School and Coach Amanda Burbridge • Led Desert Mountain to Class 5A-II back-to-back titles in 2005 and 2006 and four state tournament appearances during her career • Ranked No. 12 nationally on Prepvolleyball.com's Senior Aces list • Awarded second-team Mizuno/Volleyball Magazine All-America honors following her junior and senior seasons and was a Volleyball Magazine Fab 50 selection in 2007 • Totaled 304 kills, 218 digs, 46 blocks and 45 aces in just 22 matches as a senior after missing the first half of her senior year with a broken hand suffered while training with the U.S. Junior National Team • Totaled 13 double-doubles, including a 23-kill, 18-dig effort in the state title victory over Ironwood • Finished with 62 kills, 55 digs and eight aces in the state tournament • Selected as the Arizona Player of the Year in both 2005 and 2006 by the Scottsdale East Valley Tribune • Garnered first-team All-Arizona accolades from both the East Valley Tribune and Arizona Republic in each of her final three years • Named Gatorade Player of the Year in 2005 after leading Desert Mountain to its first state title • Selected to the 2006 U.S. Junior National Team, but was forced to miss the NORCECA Championships because of an injury • Participated in the USA Volleyball High Performance Program in 2003 under former NU assistant Lee Maes • Played club volleyball for Coach Joe Hesse and the Club Red program, leading the club to back-to-back regional titles in 2005 and 2006 • Looked at UCLA, Long Beach State, Arizona, Arizona State and Loyola Marymount before committing to Nebraska in February of 2006 • Comes from an athletic background, as her father played football at Wyoming, while her aunt (Linda Mueller Jensen) played volleyball at Oklahoma.

BROOKE DELANO #8

6-4 • R-Freshman • Middle Blocker • Bellevue, Neb. (Bellevue West)

2008: Outlook

For redshirt freshman Brooke Delano (pronounced DUH-lay-no), the 2007 season provided an opportunity to learn behind two-time All-American Tracy Stalls • Delano, a former Volleyball Magazine Fab 50 pick, took advantage of the apprenticeship and put together a solid spring, and is in line to be a major contributor as a redshirt freshman • Is a gifted athlete who combines exceptional size and athleticism along with a competitive spirit • Has been around successful teams all her career, as she helped Bellevue West High School to four straight Class A state titles and a 170-10 record • Was an all-state performer in both volleyball and basketball in high school and was recruited to play both sports at the college level • Enhances a veteran group of middle blockers that includes two-year starter Kori Cooper and senior Amanda Gates.

"Brooke's presence on the court was tremendous for a redshirt freshman in the spring," Coach John Cook said. "She communicates at a high level and works hard to get in position, especially in transition, and that is not an easy concept for freshmen to grasp. She had more attempts than any of our middles in the spring, because she wants the ball and she works hard to get good swings. For her, it is about her continued physical development and taking the things she learned behind Tracy last year, and applying them to her game."

2007: Freshman

Delano redshirted during the 2007 season and did not see any action, as she backed up Tracy Stalls, Amanda Gates and Kori Cooper at the middle blocker spots.

High School

Delano was one of the anchors of a Bellevue West volleyball program that compiled a 170-10 record and won four consecutive Class A state titles • Rated No. 25 nationally on Prepvolleyball.com's 2006 Senior Aces list • Selected for Volleyball Magazine's Fab 50 in 2007 • Was a four-year starter for coaches Joanne Kappas and Alyssa LeGrand, earning first-team all-state honors in each of her last three seasons in volleyball • Selected to the AVCA High School Senior All-America Team after totaling 487 kills on .356 hitting while adding 107 blocks in leading Bellevue West to a 43-1 record and a No. 7 national ranking in 2006 • Totaled 53 kills in three state tournament matches, including a match-high 21 kills in the state title match against Grand Island • Collected first-team Super-State accolades from the Lincoln Journal Star in each of her final three years • Led Bellevue West to a 39-3 record and a state title as a junior with 400 kills and 102 blocks to garner first-team all-state honors in 2005 • Multi-sport athlete who was the only athlete in the state to earn first-team All-Nebraska honors from the Omaha World-Herald in both volleyball and basketball in 2005-06 • Started all four seasons in basketball and earned all-state accolades in each of her last three campaigns • Guided BWHS to a 26-3 record and the school's first Class A basketball state title as a senior, averaging 11.5 points and 7.0 rebounds per game en route to second-team Super-State honors • Averaged 13.5 points, 6.8 rebounds and 2.0 blocked shots per game as a junior to earn first-team all-state honors from the Lincoln Journal Star and the Omaha World-Herald • Played club volleyball for the Nebraska Juniors and the Nebraska Volleyball Academy • Selected to the All-Tournament team at the 2006 USA Volleyball Junior Olympic Championships • Recruited to play both volleyball and basketball by a number of programs including Missouri, Iowa State and Creighton and also looked at Duke and Kansas State for basketball before committing to Nebraska in June of 2006 • Her father played basketball at Nebraska-Omaha, while her older brother (Bill) currently plays basketball at Wayne State.

BRIGETTE ROOT #3

5-10 • Freshman • Setter • Grand Island, Neb. (Grand Island)

Over the years, the success of the Nebraska volleyball program has been based on talent produced by high schools across the state • Freshman Brigette Root continues that tradition in the Husker program as she begins her college career • Considered one of the state's top setters, Root led Grand Island High School to Class A (largest class) runner-up finishes in both 2006 and 2007 • Earned first-team all-state laurels after leading Class A in assists per set in 2007 • Has a good understanding of the game and has proven to be a good team leader throughout her career • Will back up Sydney Anderson at setter and could be called upon in her freshman campaign • Is the first Grand Island native in the Husker program since former All-American and current AVP professional Jenny Kropp in 2001.

"Brigette is an important recruit for us and will have a significant role as a true freshman," Coach John Cook said. "She comes from a volleyball background, as her dad is one of the most successful coaches in the state, and has an understanding of our program. She gives us depth at the setter spot, and we will train her to be ready to play for us this year. It's a unique role for a freshman walk-on, but is something we think Brigette can handle."

High School

Root was one of the state's top performers, competing for her dad, Bill, at Grand Island High School • Led GIHS to back-to-back Class A state runner-up finishes as a junior and senior • Collected second-team Super-State honors from the Lincoln Journal Star and second-team All-Nebraska honors from the Omaha World-Herald after totaling 1,174 assists, 214 digs and 49 service aces en route to a 29-6 record in 2007 • Earned first-team Class A honors from both papers and was a two-time Heartland Super Squad selection by the Grand Island Independent after leading Class A with 11.4 assists per set • Was a two-year starter at setter, earning third-team Super-State accolades as a junior after guiding the Islanders to a 31-3 record • Earned four letters apiece in both volleyball and tennis • Won the Nebraska state title at No. 2 singles as a senior • Equally as successful in the classroom, earning first-team academic All-America honors from Prepvolleyball.com - one of only eight high school seniors in the nation to win the award • Graduated first in her class of 443 and was a class officer and National Honor Society member • Selected NU over Creighton, Iowa State and Nebraska-Omaha • Has an athletic background, as her mother (Brenda) competed in gymnastics at Nebraska in 1981, while her father played tennis at Nebraska-Kearney.

JESSICA YANZ #11

One of three new setters on the 2008 Husker roster, Jessica Yanz brings two years of Division I experience into the Husker program • Split time at setter over her two seasons at Penn State, appearing in 35 matches and helping the Nittany Lions to back-to-back Big Ten crowns • Started four matches for a Penn State program that won the national title in 2007 • Highly developed setter who makes good decisions and has shown the ability to block and attack from the position • Former Volleyball Magazine Fab 50 selection and Illinois Gatorade Player of the Year • Trained at Sports Performance, the same club program that produced former NU setter Maggie Griffin • Will sit out this season because of NCAA transfer rules and will have two years of eligibility remaining beginning in 2009.

"Jessica is a great player and any time you can get a player of her caliber into the gym, it raises the level of everyone in practice and in training," Nebraska Coach John Cook said. "Her challenge is to look at practices this year as matches and to compete every day to push us. Jessica is capable of running a fast offense and can help us simulate that in practice."

Before Nebraska

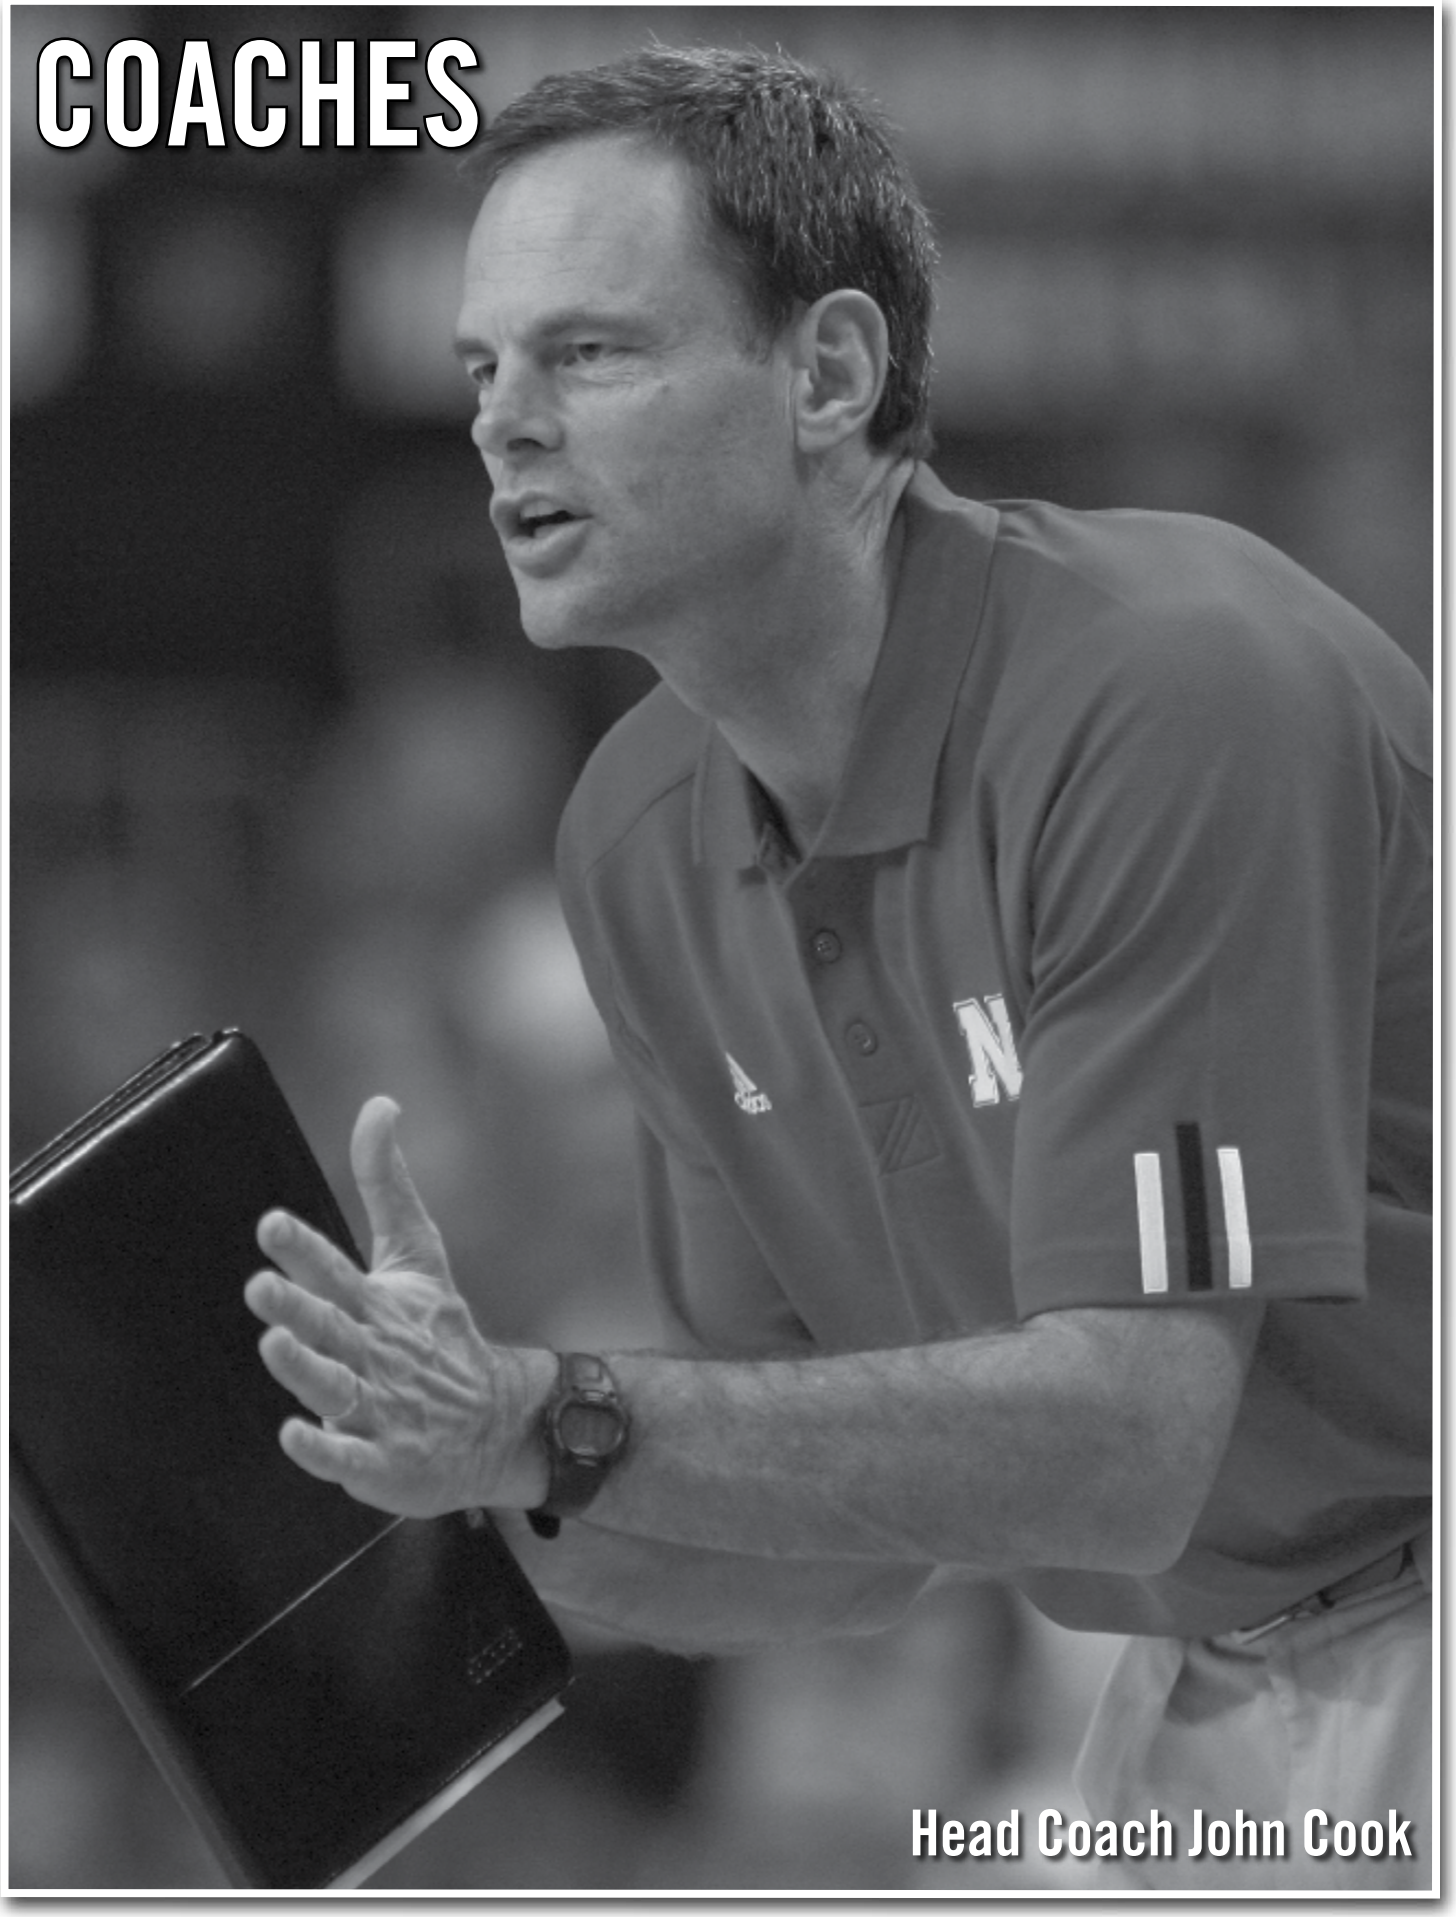
COACHES



Head Coach John Cook

JOHN COOK

Head Coach • Ninth Year • University of San Diego (1979)

The philosophy of John Cook can be summarized in two simple words.

Dream Big.

When Cook took over the reins of the Nebraska volleyball program following the 1999 season, the challenge facing him was daunting. Cook replaced one of the sport's legendary coaches in Terry Pettit, who won 694 matches and guided the Huskers to 18 consecutive NCAA appearances and six national semifinals.

Cook, who left an emerging power in Wisconsin to guide the tradition-rich Husker program, had his own vision for Nebraska volleyball. He saw a program that had even more potential to grow. His goals included consistently selling out home matches at the NU Coliseum, expanding the media exposure for his program and continuing the tradition of athletic and academic excellence started by Pettit.

Cook saw the long-range potential in reaching across the Husker Nation and making them a vital part of the program's success. He also believed Nebraska could shine by hosting the sport's championship in the largest setting college volleyball had ever seen.

When others saw risks, Cook saw opportunities.

In 2006, Cook's dream was realized, as the Husker Nation had an opportunity to see Nebraska raise the bar in college volleyball first-hand. From record-setting, sold-out crowds at the Qwest Center Omaha to a team that maximized its potential in winning the school's third national title, the Huskers enjoyed a truly remarkable season.

The Huskers entered the season with many questions, as they were forced to replace three All-Americans, including AVCA National Player-of-the-Year Christina Houghtelling, who missed the 2006 season after shoulder surgery. With four first-year starters on the court, including freshmen starters at both setter and middle blocker, and the expectations of trying to reach the national semifinals just 45 miles away from campus, 2006 shaped up to be Cook's toughest coaching job to date.

Nebraska took on all challenges head-on, going 33-1 and becoming only the third team in NCAA history to be ranked No. 1 the entire season. The Huskers went on the road and overcame a 2-0 deficit to defeat Minnesota to reach the national semifinals, marking the first time that Nebraska had won a regional outside the state. The win over the Gophers set the stage for a watershed moment in college volleyball. Behind sellout crowds of over 17,000, the Huskers captured the school's third national title with victories over No. 4 UCLA and No. 2 Stanford.

The Huskers enjoyed one of the most prolific offensive seasons in school history, leading the nation in kills per game and ranking second in hitting percentage. Four players earned AVCA All-America honors, highlighted by Sarah Pavan, who became Nebraska's first Honda-Broderick Cup winner and fourth AVCA National Player of the Year.

In 2007, the Huskers continued to raise the bar for the sport, setting a pair of NCAA single-match attendance records and winning the Big 12 title for the fourth consecutive year. The Huskers, who capped an extraordinary streak of 26 straight weeks ranked No. 1 in the AVCA poll, advanced to the regional final before a loss to Cal ended a 30-2 season. A school-record five Huskers earned AVCA All-America awards, while Pavan, Houghtelling and Tracy Stalls all earned first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America honors.

Consistent excellence has been a hallmark of Cook's Nebraska squads since he took over the reins on Dec. 15, 1999. Over the last eight years, Cook has guided Nebraska to a pair of national titles, four NCAA semifinal appearances and seven Big 12 titles. He has guided NU to a 250-16 overall record and a 154-6 league mark. Overall, Cook is 86-13 against ranked teams at Nebraska, and the Huskers have 15 wins against top-five teams during the last eight years.

With Cook at the helm, Nebraska has produced numerous individual honors including, an Olympian, a Honda-Broderick Cup winner, three AVCA Division I National Players of the Year, two NCAA Top Eight Award winners, two Honda Award winners, 27 AVCA All-Americans, three CoSIDA Academic All-Americans of the Year, 13 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans, five Big 12 Players of the Year and three Big 12 Co-Players of the Year. The Huskers have also combined for 29 All-Big 12 Conference awards and 48 academic All-Big 12 certificates.

Cook's accomplishments haven't gone unnoticed, as he is a two-time AVCA National Coach of the Year, earning the prestigious honor in 2000 and 2005, and a two-time Big 12 Coach of the Year. He is one of only five active coaches - and one of six all-time - to be a two-time AVCA National Coach of the Year.

The 2005 campaign was a special one for the Nebraska program. The Huskers advanced to the national title match for the fifth time in school history. Nebraska returned to the national semifinals for the first time since 2001 and finished with a 33-2 record. The Huskers led the nation in blocking (4.12 per game) and ranked in the top 10 nationally in assists, kills and hitting percentage. Four Huskers earned AVCA All-America honors, while Houghtelling was named AVCA National Player of the Year.

Nebraska also drew overwhelming fan support, shattering school records in attendance (5,969 fans per match) and selling out the entire season ticket allotment in just nine days.

Cook's vision is for the Huskers to remain at the forefront of college volleyball to enhance the sport at both the local and national levels. Nebraska enters 2008 with an NCAA-record 106 consecutive sellouts at the NU Coliseum and will host the 2008 NCAA Championship in Omaha.

Cook has also been instrumental in helping to expand the program's visibility throughout the state and the Midwest. In 2004, the Huskers hosted a regular-season match against Creighton in North Platte so that the fans in the western part of the state could see the Huskers in person. In addition, Cook's efforts have helped Nebraska enjoy one of the most extensive multi-media packages in the country, as every match is carried live on a state-wide radio network and nearly every contest is shown either live on television or streamed live on the Internet.

"It is a reflection of Nebraska volleyball and the program, and not about one person or one player," Cook said when accepting the AVCA Coach-of-the-Year Award in 2005. "We're trying to be a leader in the sport. We're trying to take risks and dream big, and fortunately I'm surrounded by a lot of people who have that vision. I'm really proud of what we're doing to try and enhance the sport."

Three Straight 30-Win Seasons

Cook immediately started to create his own legacy after taking over for Pettit. In his first season at the helm, Cook was named the AVCA National Coach of the Year after guiding the Huskers to a 34-0 record and the 2000 national championship. The Huskers, who became just the second team in NCAA history to cap an undefeated season with a national title, were ranked No. 1 in the AVCA/USA Today Top 25 poll for 14 straight weeks.

The Nebraska players flourished under Cook, whose responsibilities included working directly with the setters during his first two seasons. Sophomore setter Greichaly Cepero earned AVCA National Player-of-the-Year honors. Three Huskers claimed AVCA All-America certificates, and five Nebraska players were named to the All-Big 12 teams. Laura Pilakowski earned CoSIDA Academic All-America honors, and a conference-best seven Huskers earned academic All-Big 12 recognition.

In 2001, Cook's second season, Nebraska fell just two wins short of capturing another NCAA title. The Huskers, who were ranked either No. 1 or No. 2 in the AVCA poll all season, went 20-0 in the Big 12 while Cook was named the Big 12 Coach of the Year. NU finished the season with a 31-2 record after falling to eventual national champion Stanford in the NCAA semifinals.

Nebraska broke the school record for opponent hitting percentage and placed four players on the AVCA All-America teams. Right side hitter Nancy Metcalf (Meendering) was selected as an NCAA Top Eight Award winner and was also named the CoSIDA Academic All-American of the Year.

Pilakowski and Cepero joined Metcalf on the CoSIDA Academic All-America teams, as Pilakowski earned second-team honors and Cepero received third-team recognition.

In Cook's third season, the Huskers continued their remarkable success. NU finished the season ranked fifth in the AVCA poll with a 31-2 record to secure its third straight 30-win season. Nebraska produced the most dominant conference season in school history, going 20-0 and losing just two sets en route to winning the league championship for the third straight year. Cepero and Amber Holmquist again earned first-team AVCA All-America honors, and Pilakowski was recognized on the second team.

Husker Players & National Honors

In his eight seasons at NU, John Cook has produced 12 AVCA All-Americans who have combined for a national-best 27 awards. In 2007, five Huskers earned AVCA All-America certificates, breaking the school mark of four set by the 2001, 2005 and 2006 teams. The 2007 list was highlighted by Sarah Pavan, who became only the fourth player in NCAA volleyball history to become a four-time, first-team AVCA All-American.

Cook's players have also excelled academically on a national level. In Cook's eight seasons at NU, eight CoSIDA Academic All-Americans have combined for 13 awards, as Pavan, Christina Houghtelling and Tracy Stalls all earned first-team Academic All-America honors.

Cook faced perhaps his greatest coaching challenge at Nebraska during the 2003 season, when the Huskers had to replace three All-Americans and their first-ever libero. With so much young talent, Cook opted to run a 6-2 (two-setter) offense to utilize as many players as possible. NU went on to finish the season with a 28-5 record, an 11-4 mark against NCAA Tournament teams, and an appearance in its 10th straight Sweet 16.

The 2004 season may have been one of Cook's best coaching jobs, as a youthful squad that had as many as five freshmen or sophomores on the court went 30-2 and was ranked No. 1 in the country heading into the NCAA Tournament. The Huskers displayed a suffocating defense, leading the nation in both opponent hitting percentage (.103) and blocks per game (4.02) before falling to two-time defending NCAA champion USC in five sets in the regional final. Three Huskers earned AVCA All-America honors, while Pavan was chosen as the AVCA National Freshman of the Year. That group of Huskers became the centerpiece of Nebraska's consecutive NCAA Finals teams in 2005 and 2006.

Building the Badgers

Cook, who served as an assistant under Pettit for three seasons from 1988 to 1991, took over the Nebraska head coaching job after serving as associate head coach during the 1999 season. Before returning to Nebraska in 1999, Cook led Wisconsin to six straight postseason appearances in seven seasons as the Badgers' head coach.

Cook's accomplishments at Wisconsin earned him praise as one of the game's top young coaches. Cook built the Badgers into a top-10 program during his seven-year career in Madison, which included back-to-back trips to the NCAA regional finals in 1997 and 1998.

In his final match at Wisconsin, Cook's Badgers fell to the Huskers in a three-hour, five-set battle in the 1998 Pacific Regional Championship in the NU Coliseum. Wisconsin ended the season ranked seventh in the final USA Today/AVCA Coaches Poll with a 30-5 record.

Cook compiled a 161-73 ledger at the helm of the Badgers, including an 89-51 league mark in one of the nation's toughest conferences. He was named the Big Ten Co-Coach and AVCA District 2 Coach of the Year in 1997 after leading the Badgers to a share of the Big Ten title with a 19-1 mark and school-best 30-3 overall record.

In his seven years at Wisconsin, the Badgers advanced to six straight postseason tournaments, qualifying for the NCAA Tournament in 1993, 1994, 1996, 1997 and 1998. In 1995, Wisconsin won the National Invitational Volleyball Championship with a perfect 6-0 record.

As the first assistant coach with the U.S. Men's National Volleyball team, Cook aided the United States to a bronze medal in the 1992 Olympic Games in Barcelona. The team's defensive coordinator, he was also in charge of scouting and supervising the team's flexibility, strength and conditioning programs.

For his Olympic coaching experience, Cook was honored in June of 1993 at the NACDA/USOC Collegiate Coaches Recognition Awards Luncheon.

In May of 2008, he was honored for his contributions to the college and international levels, as he received the USA Volleyball All-Time Great Coach Award.

During his first tenure at Nebraska (1989-91), the Huskers advanced to the NCAA semifinals two of the three seasons, including a runner-up finish in 1989. Nebraska also went 36-0 in conference play, capturing three Big Eight Conference championships each of those three seasons. During that time, he served as Pettit's recruiting coordinator, chief scout and strength and conditioning coordinator. Cook was also the liaison with the academic advising center.

Q&A WITH COACH COOK

What is your coaching philosophy?

There are four things that come to mind. No. 1, I see myself as a teacher. It was always my dream to be a teacher, and coaching is teaching. No. 2, next to my family and my faith, the people involved with Nebraska volleyball are the most important thing in my life.

Third, at Nebraska, we like to recruit great athletes. Then we will figure out what those athletes are the most exceptional at and design our system to best take advantage of those qualities. How can we make each athlete the best volleyball player they can be? That's the question we try to answer. And finally, our players are committed to academic excellence and becoming complete student-athletes.

What do you enjoy most about coaching at Nebraska?

There are two things which make coaching at Nebraska so special. First, it is the passion of the people across the state for our team. There is a love affair between our players and the fans across the Husker Nation.

Second, is that our players are great young women who work hard, make great choices and are excellent students. In 2006, we won an NCAA title, as well as the Life Skills Award for the athletic department. We have a group of people who are committed to giving back to the community and understand that there is more to college life than volleyball.

When you are recruiting a potential student-athlete, what are Nebraska's biggest selling points?

I think the best thing for a recruit to do is see our team play. We play at a high level, but what may be most important, is how we play. It's a very exciting brand of volleyball based on great athletes moving very quickly and transitioning very fast. We've always had a reputation of taking great athletes and training them to become exceptional volleyball players.

We have a great tradition with our academic support staff and the Hewit Center. We lead the nation in academic All-America honors, NCAA Top Eight Award winners and the majority of our players go on to graduate school following their playing careers.

I think another important factor is the exposure our program receives. Our goal is to be on the cutting edge. We are the only program in the country that has its own radio network with a flagship station that is one of the strongest in the state, a state-wide weekly television program and all of our matches shown live on the Internet.

Our school's rich volleyball tradition over the years also plays an important role in recruiting. In many cases, people know they were meant to be here.

What do you look for in a recruit?

Academically we have a tradition of great student-athletes. Because the program's emphasis is on being accountable, the program attracts people who have already been successful in the classroom. But we've also taken some people who were merely good students and helped them become great students.

In addition to looking for great student-athletes, the players we attract to Nebraska are ones who not only have the athletic ability to be successful, but also are highly competitive. They don't shy away from challenges, whether it is in practices or in matches because they know it will allow them to reach their full potential as a player.

We are also in a unique situation at Nebraska where our student-athletes have a platform to make a difference in people's lives. We look for people who are going to embrace that opportunity and give back to the community.

Talk about your program's emphasis on developing players for their post collegiate careers?

At Nebraska, we believe that the program we put in place gives our players a chance to play beyond their college career. When I was with the men's national team for the 1992 Olympics, I got an understanding of what it takes to be the best in the world. We've tried to implement that at Nebraska and call it Training the Whole Athlete.

It just doesn't mean we are going to make them a great volleyball player. Obviously, we are going to do that and our program's success reflects that. We are going to train them mentally on how to compete at the highest level and continue on if they elect to do so. It is also about getting them to understand the self-discipline it takes to work in the weight room, understanding their bodies and knowing how to take care of them in areas such as stretching, recovery and nutrition.

Nebraska's .940 winning percentage under John Cook is the nation's best since the start of the 2000 season.

(record at four-year colleges only)

Our mission in this program is two-fold. One is prepare them if they want to have a professional career. Second, many of our former players are going into coaching, and they are leaving Nebraska armed with lots of information. If they can go into coaching, they have the ability to make a tremendous impact on the lives of other people with that information. It is a two-fold mission, and we feel that our program has a great understanding and implements it as well as anyone in the country in a college setting.

What do you hope student-athletes take from their years with the Nebraska volleyball program?

First, when they leave, we hope they still want to play volleyball. One of the ways we measure that is by how many of them go into coaching. Over 50 percent of our graduated players are in coaching now, whether it is at the college, high school or club level.

The second thing we want them to understand is the importance of giving back. At Nebraska, our players are viewed by the public and kids in the state with almost a rock star status. What we hope they learned at Nebraska is to use that platform to create a positive message and take that lesson throughout their lives.

How important is the NU Coliseum to Husker volleyball?

I have coached at Nebraska in some capacity for over a decade, and time and time again, I've seen the Coliseum will the Huskers to wins in close matches. I don't know if it's the ghosts or spirits of the building, or maybe just the intense energy of the fans, but playing in the Coliseum has become pivotal to our success.

It's exciting for the players to know that no matter who the opponent may be, the Huskers will play in front of a sold-out crowd. We annually rank among the national attendance leaders and have 106 consecutive sellouts at the NU Coliseum. Our fans give us an unmatched home court advantage.

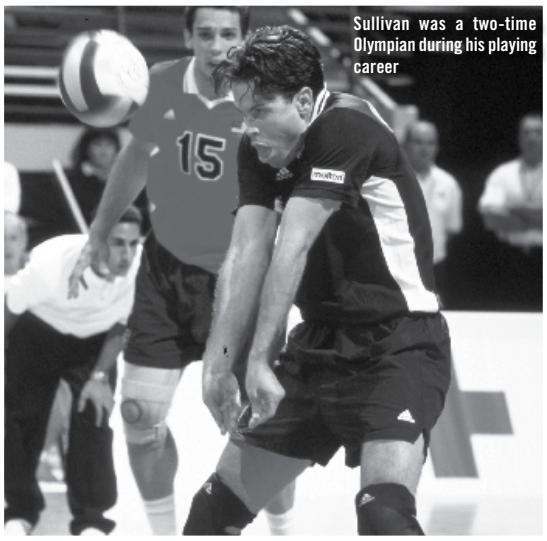
ERIK SULLIVAN

Assistant Coach • First Year • UCLA (1995)



Sullivan was a two-time Olympian during his playing career

The newest member of the Husker volleyball staff, Erik Sullivan begins his first season as an assistant coach with the Husker program after being named to the position on Feb. 14, 2008. In his role with the Huskers, Sullivan will handle player training and will work with the middle blockers while serving as recruiting co-coordinator. He also handles opponent scouting and game preparation and oversees Nebraska's summer camp program.

A two-time U.S. Olympian, Sullivan came to Nebraska from the University of Colorado, where he served as an assistant for the past four years. According to Nebraska Coach John Cook, Sullivan's combination of high-level playing and coaching experience made him stand out among a talented field of candidates.

"I feel that Erik is one of the up-and-coming young coaches in the country and was a good fit for what we were looking for on our staff," Cook said. "As a player, he played at the highest level, representing the United States in two Olympics and playing professionally. Since moving into coaching, he has worked with not only the Colorado program, but also at the club level and in the USA program. He has coached in the Big 12 for four years and understands the programs in our league, which was an important consideration for us."

Sullivan said his extensive playing background with the national team and professionally has helped shape his coaching philosophies.

"The thing I learned playing around the world is that you can win in different ways," Sullivan said. "There is not one model or style that leads to success. Many of the players at Nebraska have aspirations of playing either professionally or at the national team level, and I can help in their preparation and with the demands of continuing a volleyball career following college."

Before Nebraska

In his four years at Colorado, Sullivan helped the Buffaloes to three straight NCAA appearances and helped tutor a pair of players who earned All-Big 12 recognition, including two-time all-region selection Allie Griffin, who is currently playing on the AVP Tour. He worked primarily with the outside hitters and team passing during his time in the Buffaloes' program. In 2006, he helped Colorado knock off No. 1 Nebraska, the only loss on the NCAA Champion Huskers (33-1) schedule that season.

Playing Experience

Sullivan, 35, brings a wealth of playing experience into the Husker program, including eight years with the U.S. National Team. He started for Team USA at libero at the 2004 Summer Olympic Games and served as co-captain of Team USA at the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, Australia.

His defensive successes are well documented. He earned Best Defensive Player in the World at the 1998 World Championships and that same year he earned the USA National Team's Tom Haine Players' Award. Sullivan was touted as the America's Cup Best Reception Player in 2000 and the Best Libero at the 2001 World Championship Qualifier. He was the Best Defensive Player at the 1997 NORCECA Zone Championships and the Best Reception Player at the 1999 NORCECA.

Sullivan's playing experience has also stretched to the professional ranks in Europe. His professional resume includes stints in Naefels, Switzerland (1995-97), Malaga, Spain (1999), Apeldoorn, The Netherlands (2000-01) and Odintsovo, Russia (2003).

Back in the United States, Sullivan played professionally on the Four-Man Volleyball Beach Tour in 1996-97. He was named the tour's Rookie of the Year in 1996 and was tabbed the tour's Left Side Player of the Year in 1997.

In addition to his playing experience, Sullivan served as director of the Pikes Peak Volleyball Club in Colorado Springs, Colo., from 2001 to 2002 and served as coach of the club's 17 & Under contingent.

A two-time American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) second-team All-American at UCLA, Sullivan led the Bruins to a pair of national titles during his four-year playing career (1992-95). Sullivan finished his career as UCLA's all-time leader in matches with 10 or more digs (25) and ranked second in career digs (747). As a senior in 1995, Sullivan captained the Bruins to an NCAA title while ranking ninth nationally in digs (2.5 dpg). He graduated from UCLA with a bachelor's degree in physiological science in the spring of 1995.

A native of Encinitas, Calif., Sullivan is married to the former Amanda Heavner of Santa Barbara, Calif. The couple has a daughter, Shaye (6) and a son, Cade (1).

LINDSAY PETERSON

Director of Volleyball Operations • Third Year • Nebraska (2003)

Former Husker volleyball standout Lindsay Peterson is in her third year as Director of Operations for the Nebraska volleyball program. A former Husker volleyball captain and one of the greatest defensive players in school history, Peterson was hired in August of 2006 after serving assistant coaching stints at Northern Colorado and Virginia Tech.

At Nebraska, Peterson handles a variety of duties for the Husker volleyball team, including team travel, budgeting, coordinating tournaments and camps and assisting visiting teams. She also serves as a liaison for volleyball support units, including facilities and events, media relations, marketing, compliance, HuskerVision, the ticket office, alumni and The Match Club. She also provides radio color commentary during Nebraska's road matches. In addition to her duties on the Husker staff, Peterson coaches at the Nebraska Volleyball Academy and led the NVA Club Red team to a USA Junior Olympic National title in 2007.

Before Nebraska

Peterson came to Nebraska after serving as an assistant coach in the Northern Colorado program from March of 2005 to July of 2006. At Northern Colorado, she worked extensively with the setters and liberos and helped with recruiting in the Midwest. In 2005, she helped a pair of Northern Colorado players earn first-team Division I Independent honors, including libero Abby Mayne, who was named Division I Independent Co-Defensive Player of the Year after averaging 4.44 digs per game.

After serving as an undergraduate assistant coach at Nebraska in 2003, Peterson was on the staff at Virginia Tech in 2004, helping the Hokies finish with a 13-16 record, including a 7-9 mark in the program's first season in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Playing Experience

During her playing days, Peterson was a four-year performer in the Nebraska program from 1999 to 2002, helping the Huskers to a 123-10 record, including a national title in 2000.

Peterson played in 133 matches as a Husker, including 438 of a possible 440 career sets. She finished her career holding the school record with 1,111 career digs, despite playing three positions during her Nebraska career. She competed as a setter her freshman year and a defensive specialist her sophomore and junior years before taking over the newly created libero role her senior season (2002). Peterson was the team captain in 2002, averaging 3.35 digs per set, a total that was fourth in school history at the time. As a setter in 1999, she posted a then-freshman record 724 set assists and was a second-team All-American Farm Team selection.

In the classroom, Peterson was a three-time, first-team academic All-Big 12 selection, a six-time selection to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll and finished her degree in business administration at Nebraska in 2003, when she served as an undergraduate assistant coach. In that role, she assisted with recruiting, game day preparation and various coaching duties.

A native of Burchard, Neb., the former Linsday Wischmeier led Lewiston High School to a pair of Class D-2 State Championships (1995 and 1997), and D-2 Player-of-the-Year honors while also being a three-time academic all-state selection. She married Ty Peterson in May of 2007.

RYAN WALTHALL

Volunteer Assistant Coach • Second Year • Penn State (2007)

Ryan Walthall begins his second season as a volunteer coach in the Husker program. In his role at Nebraska, he helps in team training during practices, video scouting and film breakdown and assists with day-to-day administrative office duties.

A four-year letterwinner at Penn State for Coach Mark Pavlik, Walthall played in 95 matches during his collegiate career. Walthall was a member of four national semifinal squads, helping Penn State to the national championship match in 2006.

As a senior in 2007, he ranked 15th nationally and led Penn State with an average of 2.33 digs per set, as the Nittany Lions went 22-8 and reached the national semifinals. He reached double figures in digs 11 times, including a season best of 16 digs in a win over George Mason.

As a junior, he moved to libero midway through the season and helped PSU to a 21-9 mark and a national runner-up finish. He averaged 2.05 digs per set and had six double-figure dig totals in his final 13 matches. Walthall had a career-high 17 digs in a win over Rutgers-Newark, one shy of the PSU single-match record. He totaled double figures in digs in both of the Nittany Lions' matches in the NCAA Championships.

Walthall served as a defensive and serving specialist during his first two seasons at Penn State. He totaled 11 service aces as a sophomore and averaged 2.30 assists per set as a freshman, including a career-high 22 against St. Francis.

A native of Irvine, Calif., Walthall attended Woodbridge High School, where he was a Volleyball Magazine Fab 50 selection and team MVP as a senior. He was also the Co-MVP of the Southview League as a senior. In addition to his high school experience, he also played club volleyball for the LBC, helping the team to the 2003 Junior Olympic National Championship.

Walthall earned his bachelor's degree in recreation, parks and tourism management at Penn State in May of 2007.

Ryan Walthall helped Penn State to four straight national semifinal appearances during his collegiate career.

  Ph.D. in Educational Psychology

A Hall of Fame football coach returned to his roots on Oct. 16, 2007, to become the 13th athletic director at the University of Nebraska. Tom Osborne accepted the position at the time because, Osborne said, "Harvey Perlman asked me."

Perlman, UNL's chancellor, asked Osborne to lead the program where he had served so productively as head football coach. Two months later, on Dec. 20, 2007, he announced that the word "interim" had been removed from Osborne's title, and he would remain athletic director until at least July of 2010.

Holder of master's and doctorate degrees from the University of Nebraska in educational psychology, Osborne said he probably would not have considered coaching if he had not met Bob Devaney, who convinced him to become a volunteer graduate assistant on his staff.

"Bob epitomized the value of loyalty, and I will always be grateful for the confidence he showed in me," Osborne said. "Because of his leadership and empowerment as a coach and an athletic director, I was fortunate to serve 25 years as head coach."

Devaney put Osborne in charge of the offense that won two national titles and allowed him to concentrate on three areas he thought were important – a strong academic program for student-athletes, a strength and conditioning program and a more formalized program to attract walk-on players.

Each area has grown into an important asset for all 23 Nebraska sports programs, which Osborne now oversees. Within months of his Athletic Director appointment, Osborne quietly re-established an athletic department mission based on five core values – integrity, trust, respect, teamwork and loyalty.

Nebraska fans across the country and around the world have expressed confidence in Osborne's experience, his understanding of Nebraska and his desire to elevate the program back among the nation's elite.

Since retiring from football in 1997, Osborne has found several ways to stay active in his home state. His most visible post-coaching foray came in the political arena, as he served three terms in the U.S. House of Representatives from Nebraska's third congressional district from 2000 to 2006. He also made a gubernatorial bid in 2006 before turning to academia.

A native of Hastings, Neb., Osborne served as a senior lecturer at Nebraska in the College of Business Administration, teaching leadership and business ethics, in the fall of 2007. He completed the fall semester while working in the athletic department. Osborne has also worked as a consultant for local college athletic departments over the past two years.

"I've spent the majority of my life working with the athletic department at the university and I want to do what I can at this point to continue in the pursuit of excellence that has been previously established," Osborne said.

Widely known for his leadership, integrity, honor and compassion, Osborne has poured time and effort into building a unique mentoring program within the state. The TeamMates program, founded by Tom and his wife, Nancy, in 1991, provides support and encouragement to school-aged youth with the goal of seeing children graduate from high school and pursue a post-secondary education.

Osborne still actively provides leadership in the college football ranks despite being away from the sideline for a decade. He is currently a voter on the coaches poll for the Master Coaches Poll.

While he may hold a key position that molds the future of Nebraska Athletics, many will always remember Osborne for his legendary service to the program as a football coach.

Osborne was named Nebraska's 25th head coach following the 1972 season and worked the sideline for 25 years, the longest tenure in school history. Under Osborne's direction, the program achieved remarkable success, exceeding any in its rich history. The Cornhuskers mounted a 255-49-3 record under Osborne, good for a winning percentage of .836. The 255 victories are the sixth-most all-time among major college football coaches while the winning percentage ranks fifth all-time.

His achievements were so highly regarded that the National Football Foundation waived its three-year waiting period so that he could be inducted into its Hall of Fame in December of 1998. He is one of only four coaches in history to have the mandatory three-year waiting period waived.

Osborne's coaching career came to a poetic end in the 1998 Orange Bowl. In his final game, the Huskers defeated No. 3 Tennessee, 42-17, giving him a share of a third national title in his final four seasons. The victory left Osborne as the first coach in college football history to retire as a reigning national champion, along with the nation's best active winning percentage.

Osborne guided the Huskers to back-to-back titles in 1994 and 1995, then capped his career by sharing the 1997 title with Michigan. Nebraska's back-to-back national titles in 1994-95 made Osborne the first coach to accomplish that feat since Bear Bryant led Alabama to titles in 1978-79. Under Osborne, NU became just the second school all time and the first since Oklahoma in 1955-56 to post back-to-back perfect national championship seasons. In fact, Osborne's last five Nebraska teams put together the best five-year run in collegiate football history with an amazing 60-3 record, including five consecutive 11-win seasons.

Osborne-coached Nebraska teams captured 13 conference crowns, including six of his last seven seasons on the sideline. All 25 of his Husker teams won at least nine games and went to a bowl, while 15 won 10-or-more games.

In the classroom, Osborne's teams were just as successful as they were on the field. Under Osborne's guidance, the Husker football program totaled 65 CoSIDA Academic All-America awards in 25 years, averaging more than two selections per season. To put Osborne's dedication to developing complete student-athletes in perspective, he accumulated more football Academic All-Americans in his 25 years as coach than any other football program in the nation has produced in its history. Notre Dame has produced the second-most football academic All-Americans all-time, totaling 50 selections dating back to 1952.

Prior to becoming head coach, Osborne spent five seasons under Devaney, helping the Huskers win back-to-back national championships in 1970 and 1971. In 1973, Osborne succeeded Devaney, who also served as Nebraska's Athletic Director from 1967 to 1993.

Osborne and his wife, Nancy, have three adult children, Mike, Ann and Suzanne and four grandchildren.

2007 REVIEW

Big 12 Champions

HUSKERS END INCREDIBLE ERA WITH BIG 12 CROWN

The Huskers celebrate their 10th Big 12 title in the last 12 seasons. Nebraska's senior class captured four straight Big 12 titles from 2004 until 2007.

The question was posed to volleyball coach John Cook shortly following the Huskers' loss to California in the 2007 NCAA Madison Regional.

What is the legacy of the 2007 Husker senior class?

Cook took a couple of moments to ponder the question before giving his thoughts on one of the most decorated senior classes in NCAA history.

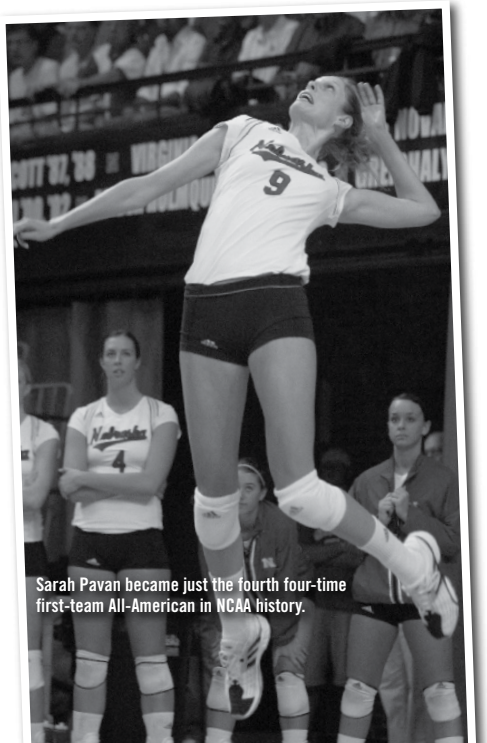
"The first thing that comes to mind is that they've set the bar so darn high," Cook said. "Over the last three years, we've lost five matches, played for two national championships and won a national championship on probably the greatest stage the history of volleyball may ever see. When you look at this group academically, they're all 4.0s, three academic All-Americans, they won the Life Skills Award as a team....I'm not sure we'll ever top this group of seniors.

"Once the disappointment (of losing the regional final) goes away, they're going to have some incredible accomplishments and memories and have set a great legacy at Nebraska."

Although the 2007 seniors fell shy of their ultimate quest for back-to-back national titles, the imprint they made on the Husker program was profound. It was a group that proved that no dream was too big if you put your mind to it.

On the court, seniors Maggie Griffin, Christina Houghtelling, Sarah Pavan and Tracy Stalls led the Huskers to a 126-7 record - the best four-year run in Nebraska's legendary history - four straight Big 12 titles and back-to-back appearances in the NCAA Championship match. They helped Nebraska spend an unprecedented 26 weeks at No. 1 in the AVCA poll. To put that in perspective, the Huskers played 93 straight matches as the nation's No. 1 team spanning parts of three seasons. The group combined for 10 AVCA All-America certificates, consecutive AVCA Players of the Year in 2005 (Houghtelling) and 2006 (Pavan) and a member of the U.S. National Team (Stalls).

As accomplished as they were on the court, their academic success may have been even more impressive. One had to only look at the CoSIDA Academic All-America first-team to see Nebraska's impact on the sport. Pavan, Houghtelling and Stalls comprised half of the six-member first team, marking the first time a program had three first-team honorees in volleyball.



Sarah Pavan became just the fourth four-time first-team All-American in NCAA history.

"When you talk about having three first-team academic All-Americans on a defending national championship team and a team GPA of 3.60, it says a lot about the type of individuals in this program," said NU Senior Associate Athletic Director for Academics Dennis Leblanc.

All three also earned NCAA postgraduate scholarships, doubling the Huskers' all-time total in volleyball in one calender year.

"That is something you may never see again," Cook said following the announcement.

Pavan, who also brought home NU's nation-best 16th NCAA Today's Top Eight award, graduated with a perfect 4.0 GPA in biological sciences and was selected as the ESPN the Magazine Academic All-American of the Year for all of Division I. Houghtelling, a two-time first-team academic All-American, and Stalls both had better than 3.90 GPAs, while Griffin carried a 3.83 GPA in finance and received her degree in May of 2008.

Each of the seniors left their own indelible mark on Nebraska volleyball.

For Griffin, it was being the consummate teammate who pushed the Huskers every day at practice while she took advantage of playing opportunities. Griffin was masterful on Senior Night, helping the Huskers hit .472 as a team in clinching the Big 12 championship for the fourth consecutive year, as the appreciative NU Coliseum crowd applauded the sacrifices she made during her three years as a Husker.

For Houghtelling, it was the resiliency of fighting back from a career-threatening injury to perform once again at a high level. After missing all of the Huskers' 2006 season with shoulder and knee surgery, Houghtelling became an All-American in 2007, averaging 3.05 kills and a team-best 3.95 digs per game en route to Big 12 Defensive Player-of-the-Year honors.

For Pavan, it was the single-minded pursuit of excellence that fueled her efforts. She finished her illustrious career as one of only four players in NCAA history to become a four-time, first-team All-American. Pavan was chosen as the Big 12's Player of the Year for the third straight season after averaging 4.83 kills and 0.49 service aces per game. She closed out her career with 2,008 kills, easily breaking the school mark held by Allison Weston while becoming only the fourth player in conference history to eclipse 2,000 career kills.

Stalls provided the leadership and stability that were the bedrocks of the foundation to the Huskers' success. A two-year captain, she closed out her career with one of the best seasons by a middle blocker in school history. Stalls ranked third nationally with a .473 hitting percentage, shattering school and Big 12 marks, while averaging a career-high 2.83 kills per game. She punctuated Senior Night by recording 13 kills in as many swings, tying the NCAA mark for hitting percentage in a match.

The traits of the Huskers were never more evident than in the regional semifinal against Michigan State. After losing the first two games, Nebraska roared back by winning the third game, but could not put away the Spartans in game four. With the score tied at 28, Nebraska's senior leaders shined once again, as a kill by Stalls and an ace by Houghtelling sent the match to a decisive fifth game.

The Huskers, who had rallied from an 0-2 deficit earlier in the year at Kansas State, pounced on the momentum by jumping to an early 7-2 lead in the finale and closing out the comeback on the 20th kill of the night from All-American Jordan Larson. All-American Rachel Holloway dished out 72 assists, as the Huskers advanced to their fourth straight regional final.

While the season ended the following night against an inspired California squad, the images of the 2007 season provided memorable moments for Husker fans everywhere.

Interest in the program was at an all-time high even before the season began, as single-match tickets at the NU Coliseum sold out in just 45 minutes. Fans lined up the night before to get their chance to watch the Huskers make a bid to repeat as national champions.

The Huskers began 2007 in the same place they won a national title the previous December - in Omaha. After sweeping Tennessee in the season opener, Nebraska faced UCLA in a matchup of national semifinal squads in the AVCA Showcase title match. The two teams split the first two games before the Huskers pulled away in the final two games behind a match-high 25 kills from Pavan and 16 kills on .640 hitting from Stalls.

The momentum continued the following weekend, when the Huskers welcomed third-ranked Penn State to the Qwest Center. The Huskers thrilled a then-NCAA regular-season record crowd of 13,081 with a three-game sweep of a Nittany Lion team that went on to win the national title. A balanced attack and a stifling defense were the keys to the sweep, as NU placed four players in double figures in kills while holding PSU to a season-low .134 hitting percentage.

The sweep of Penn State was one of the highlights in a 19-match win streak that saw the Huskers go nearly two months without losing a single game. The Huskers posted six sweeps over ranked opponents, including wins over No. 7 Texas, No. 11 Duke and No. 17 Cal Poly to set up a midseason showdown with No. 11 Hawaii at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

The match drew a sellout and a new NCAA regular-season record crowd of 13,396, the first time the Husker volleyball program sold out the Devaney Center for a match. Nebraska did not disappoint, sweeping the Rainbow Wahine for its 19th consecutive win, as Stalls put down a team-high 11 kills in the Huskers' 17th consecutive sweep.

The undefeated season ended in the following match, as Texas snapped NU's 30-match win streak, but the Huskers rebounded. Forced to win the remaining eight matches to win the Big 12 title, the Huskers faced two of their most difficult matches of the year.

The Huskers struggled, but defeated Missouri in five games before a trip to No. 12 Kansas State nearly derailed NU's title bid. Nebraska dropped the first two games and trailed 9-5 in game three before mounting a spirited comeback. Pavan totaled 31 kills, while Stalls added 16 kills and nine blocks, but it was a team effort featuring strong performances from Rachel Holloway (72 assists, 13 digs and six blocks), Houghtelling (26 digs, four blocks and seven kills) and Rachel Schwartz (16 digs) that brought the team back from its deficit.

"They realized that they had to come together and really play as a team, and that was really fun to see," Cook said. "They just went to a completely different level the last two games, but especially in game five."

Those would be the final road bumps in the Big 12 title quest, as the Huskers swept their last six matches to earn a share of their 10th conference crown in 12 years of Big 12 action.

Huskers Sweep Tennessee to Open 2007

Omaha – The Huskers opened defense of their national title in grand fashion, rolling to a 30-15, 30-19, 30-18 sweep of Tennessee in the opening round of the AVCA Showcase.

The Huskers were dominant on both ends of the court. NU hit .361 as a team while holding Tennessee to .088 hitting. Sarah Pavan paced the Huskers with 14 kills on .417 hitting and four blocks, while Jordan Larson chipped in 13 kills on .522 hitting and nine digs.

The season opener also saw the return of Christina Houghtelling, who totaled eight kills and a team-high 12 digs in her first action since the 2005 season. The win was Nebraska's 1,000th all-time victory, as the Huskers became only the third program to reach that milestone.

No. 1 Huskers Fall to Fifth-Ranked Texas

Austin, Texas – Sarah Pavan totaled 17 kills, but fifth-ranked Texas snapped the Huskers' 29-match win streak with a 30-22, 30-25, 30-20 victory over top-ranked Nebraska on Oct. 24.

Destinee Hooker and Juliann Faucette combined for 30 kills, as Texas became the first Big 12 team to sweep the Huskers since the Longhorns accomplished the feat in 1997.

With the win, Texas forged into a tie with Nebraska at the top of the Big 12 standings. The Huskers fell for the first time since Nov. 11, 2006, at Colorado, a span of 30 matches. Since the loss at CU in 2006, NU had dropped only six games and none in their previous 17 matches.

Pavan finished with 17 kills, but the Huskers hit a season-low .145, nearly .200 points below their nation-best .343 hitting percentage. NU was swept for the first time since the 2005 NCAA title match. Hooker tied Pavan for match-high honors, while hitting .455 on 33 swings. Faucette finished with 13 kills, seven digs and three blocks, as UT out-blocked the Huskers 12.5-7 and hit .371.

Stalls, Seniors Lift Huskers to Big 12 Crown

Lincoln – Tracy Stalls tied an NCAA record by putting down 13 kills on 13 swings for a perfect 1.000 attack percentage, as the Husker volleyball team sent Stalls and NU's three other seniors out in style with a 30-18, 30-10, 30-11 sweep of Texas Tech.

Stalls' perfect evening marked the second time in school history that a Husker had enjoyed a perfect attack percentage, as Megan Korver was a perfect 10-for-10 against Iowa State on Sept. 25, 1998.

The Huskers' senior class of Stalls, Maggie Griffin, Christina Houghtelling and Sarah Pavan all starred as Nebraska clinched a share of the Big 12 title. With Griffin earning the starting nod for the first time in 2007, the Huskers were precise, hitting .472 on the match. She totaled season highs in assists (40) and digs (9) while recording her first three blocks and first kill of the year.

In addition to Stalls' record-tying performance, Pavan had a match-high 18 kills on only 25 swings, while tying a career high with five aces. Houghtelling collected her 10th double-double of the year with 10 kills and 10 digs while also matching her season high with three aces.

Cal Ends Huskers' Repeat Bid

Madison, Wis. – Second-ranked Nebraska's quest for a second consecutive national title ended, as the Huskers fell to No. 6 California, 30-28, 31-29, 30-26 in the regional championship at the UW Field House.

The Huskers, bidding to become volleyball's first repeat champion since USC in 2002 and 2003, ended their season with a 30-2 record. The loss ended a remarkable run for Nebraska's quartet of seniors, as Maggie Griffin, Christina Houghtelling, Sarah Pavan and Tracy Stalls helped Nebraska to a 126-7 record, two national semifinal appearances, four Big 12 titles and the 2006 national championship.

Pavan became the first Husker and just the fourth Big 12 player to ever record 2,000 kills, as the senior right side hitter finished with a match-high 16 kills and finished her career with 2,008 kills to rank fourth in Big 12 history. Stalls finished with seven kills on .462 hitting. She hit a school- and Big 12-record .473 on the season, breaking Virginia Stahr's mark of .440 established in 1990.

Nebraska's middles were the bright spot of the Huskers' offense, as Stalls and Kori Cooper combined for 14 kills with only one error in 26 swings.

Cal's outside duo of Angie Pressey and Hana Cutura keyed the Bears to the win, combining for 43 of Cal's 59 kills in helping the Bears out-hit Nebraska, .323 to .240. Cutura totaled a match-high 23 kills on .386 hitting, while Pressey finished with 20 kills on .444 hitting, a team-high 17 digs and three blocks.

NCAA RULES FOR BOOSTERS

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Big 12 Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

NCAA Principles

Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

Question and Answers for Fans, Boosters, Alumni & Representatives of Athletics Interests

Definitions

Q: What is a booster?

A: You are a booster if you belong to a University of Nebraska athletic booster club; have promoted or made financial donations to the athletic department or to a specific Husker team; assists in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; and/or employ, give benefits to or provide services for a student-athlete, a prospective student-athlete or the relative/friends of either. Once an individual is identified as an athletic representative, that person retains that identity indefinitely.

Q: Who is a Prospective Student-Athlete?

A: A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a Nebraska booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general. A good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Q: Who is a Student-Athlete?

A: A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the Nebraska athletic staff or other representative of athletic interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletic program.

Q: What is a contact?

A: Contact is ANY face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and a Nebraska staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Q: What is recruiting?

A: Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by an athletic representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in Nebraska's intercollegiate athletic program.

Guidelines

Q: What constitutes impermissible contact by a booster?

A: Phone calls to prospects (9-12th grade) and their relatives placed for recruiting purposes (questions about the athletic program at UNL must be directed to the coach); writing, paging, text messages or instant messages to a prospect to encourage UNL attendance; contact with a prospect at a high school or club contest; contact with a prospect or his/her coach, principal, or counselor to evaluate the prospect; visiting the prospect's educational institution to pick up videotape or transcripts for evaluation purposes; contacting a prospect to congratulate him/her for signing a National Letter of Intent to attend UNL; giving anything of value to a prospect to induce him/her to attend UNL; contact of any kind while the prospect is on the UNL campus for an official or unofficial visit.

Q: Can I give anything to a prospective student-athlete?

A; A booster cannot expend funds to entertain or provide transportation for a prospective student-athlete, the prospect's family members or friends; and/or become directly or indirectly involved in making arrangements for a prospect, or the prospect's relative or friends to receive money or financial aid of any kind.

Q: As a Husker booster, how can I stay involved?

A: There are several ways a booster may stay involved. You may discuss summer employment opportunities with a prospect after he/she has signed a National Letter of Intent with the University of Nebraska; attend high school athletic events WITHOUT contacting prospective student-athletes; continue existing friendships with families and friends of prospective student-athletes; and/or send recommendation letters, newspaper clippings or similar information about prospective student-athletes to Husker coaches.

Q: What are non-permissible extra benefits?

A: An extra benefit is any special arrangement by a Nebraska employee or an athletic representative to provide a student-athlete or the student-athlete's relative or friend a benefit not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation. Only benefits that are authorized by NCAA legislation can be provided to and accepted by a student-athlete. It is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive a benefit that is the result of a "special" arrangement by an institutional employee, booster, employer or fan.

Non-permissible benefits include, but are not limited to:

- Free or reduced-fee housing/rent, including use of vacation/seasonal homes;
- Free or reduced-fee meals;
- Loans or cash advances in pay or salary;
- Tuition costs or school supply expenses;
- Gifts or presents of any type regardless of the occasion or purpose;
- Use of telephone or telephone cards for long distance and use of cell phones;
- Free use of any motor vehicle, boat or recreational vehicle;
- Free use of services i.e., automobile repair, hair care, laundry, copying, faxing, etc.; and
- Free or reduced-fee memberships at golf courses, health clubs, etc.

Q: As a booster, how may I help student-athletes?

A: Boosters can help current student-athletes in several ways. Feel free to invite a student-athlete to participate in non-profit, charitable or educational events; invite a student-athlete into your home for an occasional meal; and make sure to pay a student-athlete the commensurate rate for actual and legitimate employment. If you choose to assist in any of the ways described above, you must contact the compliance office to receive PRIOR approval.

Qwest Center Omaha - 2008 NCAA Host Site

Qwest Center Omaha opened its doors in September 2003 as the centerpiece to Omaha's $1.6 billion Riverfront revitalization project. Since opening, Qwest Center Omaha has catapulted Omaha into the spotlight as the premier destination for tours, conventions and meetings.

The Convention Center was named Best Convention Center for 2006 by Meetings MidAmerica. It features 194,000 square feet of exhibition space, the Peter Kiewit Grand Ballroom and 16 meeting rooms. Warren Buffet's Annual Berkshire Hathaway Shareholders Meeting calls Qwest Center Omaha home.

The arena consistently ranks as a Top 20 ticket selling arena in the world by Pollstar Magazine. A seating expansion project took place during the summer of 2006 when approximately 1,500 seats were added, bringing capacity to 17,500.

In volleyball, Qwest Center Omaha was the host site of the 2005 NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Regionals and 2006 NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Championship Finals. The two events have drawn the largest crowds in NCAA volleyball history, as the 2006 championships sold out in hours.

Much of the success of Qwest Center Omaha is due to an incredibly supportive community, which has known for a long time that Omaha is a hidden jewel in our country.

Qwest Center Omaha will host the NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Championship for the second time this December. In 2006, the NCAA Championship in Omaha shattered NCAA single-match and all-session attendance records.

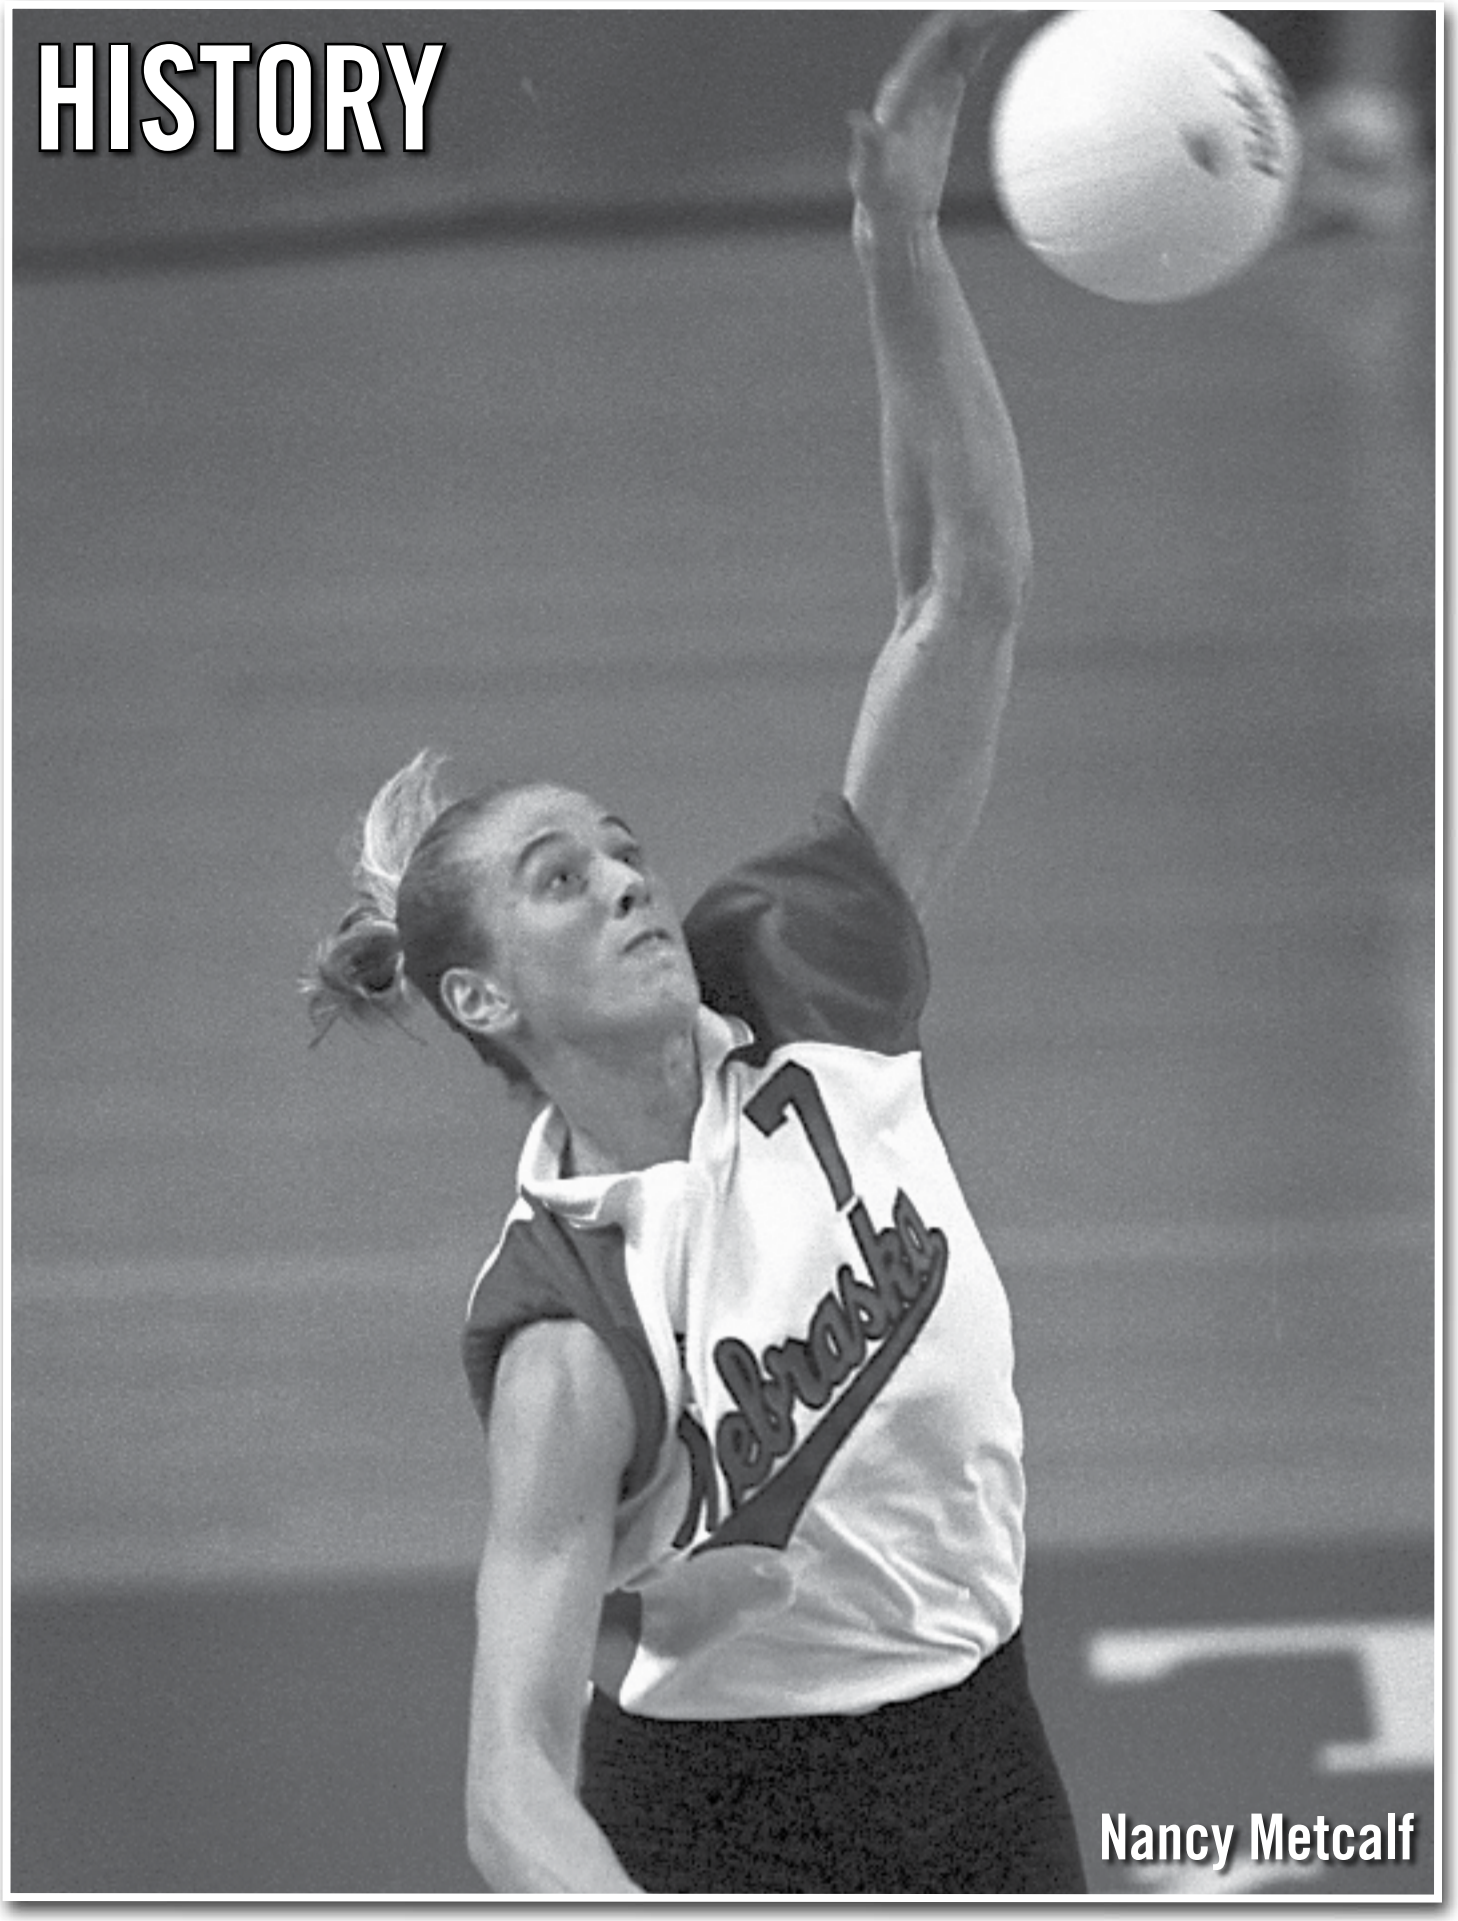
HISTORY



HUSKER VOLLEYBALL: A CHAMPIONSHIP TRADITION

The first Husker volleyball team, coached by Pat Sullivan (far right, second row), set the tone for future teams, compiling a 34-8 record and advancing to the AIAW regional finals in 1975.

by Mike Babcock

A bulletin advertising an opening for the head volleyball coach's job at Nebraska had been discarded in a wastebasket in the coaches' office at Louisburg College. Paul Sanderford, the first-year head coach of the women's basketball team at the North Carolina junior college, retrieved the bulletin from the wastebasket and handed it to Terry Pettit, the school's head volleyball coach.

Without that assist from Sanderford, Pettit, an aspiring English teacher with a background in creative writing and poetry as well as coaching, would not have known about the opening. If he had not known about the opening, he would not have applied. And if he had not applied and been hired, the history of Husker volleyball would have been altered dramatically, because he and Husker volleyball became one and the same.

Pettit was the Nebraska volleyball coach from 1977 to 1999 – all but two years of the program's first 25 years of existence. Pat Sullivan, the Huskers' first volleyball coach, compiled an 83-21 record in two seasons of competition sanctioned by the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women.

Before 1975, Nebraska didn't sponsor women's athletic teams. If women wanted to compete, they did so on loosely organized and unfunded club teams. It had been that way since the early 1900s, when a women's basketball team occasionally competed against teams from outside the University.

Basketball was introduced in the university's physical education classes for sophomore women in 1896, and as was the case with male students, class teams competed against each other.

Nebraska's first All-University women's team was organized in 1896 and included the best players regardless of class, according to the Nebraska State Journal. The team never lost, which should not be surprising, given how it was chosen and the quality of its intramural competition.

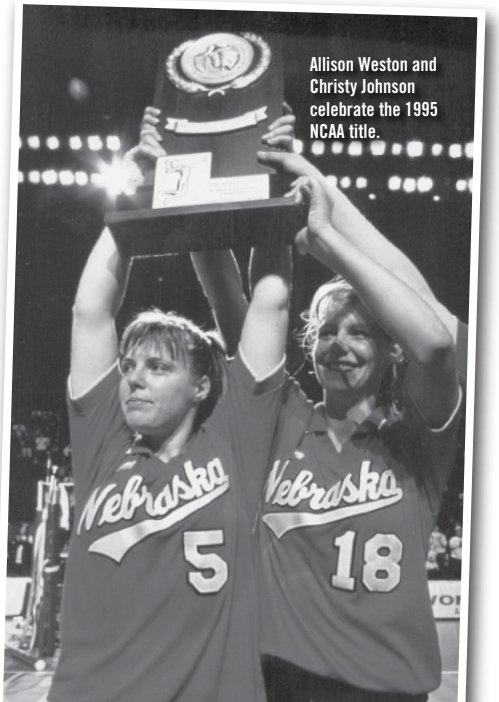
The first women's basketball game played before an audience was part of the University's sixth annual gymnasium exhibition in the spring of 1897, according to Phyllis Kay Wilke's "Physical Education for Women at Nebraska University, 1879-1923," published in Nebraska History in the spring of 1975.

Louise Pound seems to have been the driving force in women's basketball at Nebraska, organizing as well as playing on the earliest teams. She was captain of the first team to play against an opponent from outside the University in March of 1898. Pound, who also was the first All-University tennis champion, scored 11 points in a 15-7 victory against a team from Council Bluffs, Iowa.

In April of 1901, the university sponsored a women's state tournament under Pound's direction at Grant Memorial Hall. Nebraska was represented by an A team and a B team in a field that included teams from the Omaha YWCA, Lincoln High School and Wahoo High School. Nebraska's A team won the two-day competition and a month later won a rematch with the Omaha YWCA in Omaha.

In November of 1901, Nebraska played a team from the University of Missouri at Grant Hall, "the first intercollegiate match for girls ever played in the west," according to the Nebraska State Journal. Missouri was no match for its more experienced — and to that point undefeated — opponent, losing 31-4.

The Nebraska women did not suffer their first defeat until 1904, when they lost to a team from the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis after opening an abbreviated schedule by shutting out a team from the Lincoln YWCA. The Nebraska women avenged the Minnesota loss two weeks later in Lincoln.



Allison Weston and Christy Johnson celebrate the 1995 NCAA title.

The Nebraska women played games against the University of Minnesota, home-and-home two weeks apart, again in March of 1908, losing both, the second after a five-minute overtime.

Before the Minnesota games, Nebraska had defeated Nebraska Wesleyan to finish what was to be its final season with a 1-2 record against outside competition. University women were not allowed to compete in basketball, as well as other sports, only in physical education classes after April 24, 1908.

In response to the concerns of faculty members, who considered such activity inappropriate, the University board of regents abolished intercollegiate athletics for women. If not for the passing of Title IX by Congress in 1972, there probably would not be women's intercollegiate athletics now.

Initially, "there wasn't an embracing of women's athletics," Pettit said. "It's like any civil rights movement almost. It's tolerated, and you have to educate the public as to what it means. Today if you asked on a ballot if women should have the opportunity to compete in sports, there would be an overwhelming majority of people who would support it. But that wasn't the case in the 1970s.

"One of the things that allowed Nebraska to be successful was that we jumped in with both feet," Pettit said. "Nebraska decided: 'Well, if we're going to do this, let's do it well.' Whereas some schools were hesitant to get going, Nebraska was one of the first to offer scholarships. In any endeavor, if you're among the first, that gives you a tremendous advantage, and you continue to reap the benefits years later."

Under Pettit's direction, volleyball became to Husker women's athletics what football is to the Nebraska men's program. Pettit's teams advanced to the NCAA Tournament semifinals six times, and his 1995 team won the national championship, defeating Texas in the finals at Amherst, Mass.

The 1995 Huskers finished 32-1, with their only loss coming against Stanford in the second match of the season. Senior Allison Weston was the AVCA Co-Player of the Year and among three first-team All-Americans from Nebraska. The others were Christy Johnson and Lisa Reitsma.

Weston, a middle blocker, earned first-team All-America honors three times, the first Husker to do so. But Nebraska consistently has been represented on All-America teams since 1980, when Terri Kanouse became the Huskers' first volleyball All-American, as selected by the AIAW.

Three Huskers have earned All-America honors from the American Volleyball Coaches Association in the same season 15 times since 1984, most recently in 2007, when a school record five Huskers – Rachel Holloway, Christina Houghtelling, Jordan Larson, Sarah Pavan and Tracy Stalls – captured All-America honors.

After the 1999 season, Pettit turned the program over to his long-time friend and former NU assistant coach, John Cook.

Cook arrived at Nebraska with impressive credentials after building the Wisconsin volleyball program into a national power, and he wasted no time making his mark at NU. In what was supposed to be a transition year, Cook led the Huskers to a perfect 34-0 record and the 2000 NCAA title.

The following season, Cook again guided the Huskers to the NCAA semifinals, where they lost to eventual national champion Stanford. After two regional finals and a regional semifinal, the Huskers returned to the national title match in 2005, earning runner-up honors to cap a 33-2 season.

In eight years, Cook has guided Nebraska to a 250-16 record, a pair of national titles, four NCAA semifinal appearances and seven Big 12 championships. Nebraska is an amazing 154-6 against Big 12 teams in that stretch.

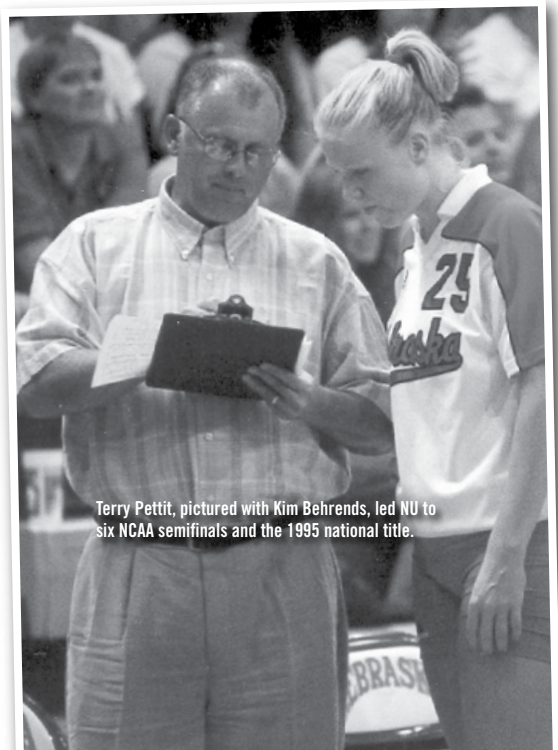
The tradition that Cook continues to build began in 1978, when Kanouse and Shandi Pettine were the first Nebraska volleyball players to be recruited with full scholarships. By 1981, Pettit could award 12 scholarships.

"We had a full complement," he said. "And that put us ahead of some schools."

Those first Nebraska teams included primarily in-state athletes. But Kanouse was from Indiana and Pettine was from Colorado, evidence not only of Pettit's interest in expanding the Huskers' recruiting base, but also of the respect his program was earning beyond the state's borders.

Fiona Nepo, one of only 12 setters in NCAA history to earn All-America certificates three times came from Honolulu, Hawaii.

Karen Dahlgren, an All-American in 1985 and 1986, and Lynae Loseke, whose career was cut short by a knee injury, walked on, another element of the volleyball program's consistent success shared by the football program.



Terry Pettit, pictured with Kim Behrends, led NU to six NCAA semifinals and the 1995 national title.

"We don't have 50 walk-ons, but if we can get one good one a year, it pays off," Pettit said.

The 1981 and 1982 recruits, which included Cathy Noth (from Iowa) and Mary Buysse (from Minnesota), gave the Huskers "two really good classes in a row," Pettit said. And, except for Dahlgren, who redshirted, they helped get Nebraska into the NCAA Tournament for the first time.

The Huskers had qualified for the AIAW National Tournament in 1978 at Tuscaloosa, Ala., but "there was no excitement because nobody here got to see the matches," Pettit said.

That changed in 1982, when Nebraska defeated a Penn State team coached by Russ Rose (Pettit's assistant in 1977) in the NCAA Tournament's first round before a large and enthusiastic crowd at the NU Coliseum.

"That was a dramatic step for the program," Pettit said. "It was the first time we really had an opportunity to market something. I don't think anything changes the perception of an athletic program like hosting an NCAA event. From then on, we were always playing, always hosting."

The Huskers have qualified for 26 consecutive NCAA Tournaments, which "may be our biggest achievement is the consistency. We're always very competitive," Pettit said.

Nebraska reached the NCAA finals for the first time in 1986, Dahlgren's senior season, defeating Stanford in the semifinals but losing to Pacific on its home court in Stockton, Calif.

Three seasons later, the persistent Huskers were back in the NCAA title match, losing to Long Beach State (after defeating UCLA) at Honolulu, Hawaii. Pettit realized then that his program had progressed to a point where winning the national championship was a realistic goal.

Several other factors contributed to the success of the Nebraska volleyball program, including the Coliseum, which was refurbished and reconfigured specifically as a volleyball facility in 1992.

The intimacy of the Coliseum is a significant factor in fan support, which has kept Nebraska among the nation's leaders in attendance, annually ranking in the top three nationally, including second in 2007. Nebraska has sold out its last 106 straight matches at the 4,030-seat Coliseum, dating back to 2001.

In addition, the Huskers annually play a match at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Nebraska set an NCAA regular-season attendance record on Oct. 21, 2007, as a sellout crowd of 13,396 watched the top-ranked Huskers sweep No. 11 Hawaii.

Nebraska's fans have consistently shattered volleyball attendance records. In 2006, Nebraska drew an NCAA record crowd of 17,209 for the NCAA Championships at the Qwest Center. The event sold out nine months in advance, marking the first time in recent memory that the event was an advanced sellout.

While the Huskers have played in several venues across the state, the Coliseum is Nebraska's home.

"I believe it is a major reason for interest. People like the building. They like watching events here," Pettit said. "It's an intimate facility. It's a collegiate facility. You walk into the big fieldhouses, and you could be anywhere in the country."

Fans also know what to expect from the Husker teams that play there.

"They know what type of effort they're going to see," Pettit said. "The fans are only 10 or 15 feet removed from the playing court, so they can tell whether or not there's enthusiasm, whether or not people (the athletes) are communicating. That's what they really come to see. It certainly helps that Nebraska wins. The winning gets you there the first time. But you can't have a great enterprise, whether it be a business or an athletic team, unless you have an identity.

"People have that feeling about Nebraska volleyball. They know exactly what it is. They know what type of athlete is on the court. They know the style of play. They know the effort. They know the consistency. They know that she's a good student. And they know that she's a solid citizen when she goes on to her career after volleyball."

The attraction wasn't immediate. Though the program has been successful from the beginning, it experienced some lean times as far as interest and support.

"It's been a slow, consistent growth," Pettit said. "I think that fits Nebraskans. They aren't real impressed with flash or something that just happens in the short term. What they want to see is progress over the long run. 'Show me that you'll continue to get the job done.' If you do that, then they'll ride with you even when things aren't so good."

A Magical Season

Nebraska enjoyed a storybook season in 2006, putting together a 33-1 record en route to the school's third national title. Despite the loss of AVCA National Player of the Year Christina Houghtelling before the start of preseason practice and a lineup that featured three new starters, the Huskers won their first 23 matches, including 18 sweeps, before suffering their only loss of the year. The Huskers rebounded by losing just one game over the next seven matches before running into their toughest test of the postseason. One game away from the national semifinals in Omaha, the Huskers overcame a 2-0 deficit to topple Minnesota and win a regional for the first time outside the state in school history. That win set the stage for one of the biggest volleyball events in history, as the Huskers played for a chance at a national title in front of sold-out crowds of 17,000-plus at the Qwest Center in Omaha.

Tracy Stalls had a career-high 17 kills in NU's NCAA semifinal win over UCLA.

Semifinals

Nebraska used a career night from Tracy Stalls to advance to the finals with a 3-1 victory over fourth-ranked UCLA. Stalls totaled a career-high 17 kills on .577 hitting, out-shining UCLA All-American Nana Meriwether, who was held to 12 kills and a season-low .190 hitting. The Huskers dropped the opener and trailed 28-26 before a Pavan kill pulled NU within a point. Stalls then closed out the game with three straight points from the service line, tying the match at one. Nebraska took control of the third game behind the strong serving of Pavan, who ran off nine straight points at the service line including three aces that turned a 13-all game into a 23-13 cushion. Stalls had seven kills in each of the final two games. While Pavan finished with a match-high 22 kills, the Husker defense held UCLA in check behind 29 digs from Dani Busboom and 25 from Jordan Larson, as both enjoyed career bests in digs against the Bruins.

Final

The Huskers followed a similar script as the semifinals, dropping the opening game before regrouping. Trailing 24-23 in game two, the Huskers seized the momentum with three straight points, highlighted by a Dani Mancuso kill that gave NU a 25-24 lead. In game three, another unlikely hero emerged to spark a Husker comeback. Trailing 23-19, Amanda Gates came off the bench and sparked NU with two big blocks, the second of which put the Huskers up 29-28. In the finale, the Huskers rode the arm of Sarah Pavan, who had six of her match-high 22 kills, before Jordan Larson's 19th kill of the night closed out the match after the Cardinal pulled within 29-27. NU had four players total at least 10 kills, as Mancuso finished a dream season with 12 kills in her hometown.

Highlighting the 2006 Season

- The Huskers led the country in both kills (17.40) and assists (16.20) per game, the first time Nebraska had led the country in either category.
- Nebraska set school records for kills per game, assists per game and block assists (823).
- Nebraska became the third team in NCAA history to lead the AVCA poll the entire season, joining UCLA (1992) and USC (2003), and the first team to win a national title while hosting since UCLA in 1991.
- Sarah Pavan became the first Husker athlete to win the Honda-Broderick Cup - symbolic of the top female athlete in college athletics. Pavan also became the first Big 12 student-athlete to win the award since the league's inception in 1996.

Quoting Coach John Cook

"This team maxed out to their abilities. They really never waivered the entire year, and they embraced it if they did. To win this here in Nebraska, with this group of people and overcoming the obstacles to get here and dealing with this pressure, it has to be No. 1. "

Mission Accomplished

Nebraska entered the 2000 season with a No. 11 preseason ranking and an eagerness to prove the pollsters wrong. Competing with a new coach, a new setter and without two-time All-American Nancy Metcalf (Meendering) didn't scare the Huskers. A trio of sophomore All-Americans, including AVCA Player-of-the-Year Greichaly Cepero, emerged to lead NU to a 34-0 record and the program's second national title. With a 3-2 win over Wisconsin Dec. 15 in the championship final, the Huskers became just the second team in NCAA history to finish a season undefeated. First-year Head Coach John Cook earned AVCA Coach-of-the-Year honors.

Semifinals

In the first match, Nebraska relied on its greatest strength - its block - to stifle Hawaii at the net in a 3-1 victory. The Huskers outblocked the Rainbow Wahine 23-7.5, as Jenny Kropp and Amber Holmquist each tallied 10 block assists. With the win, the Huskers broke the school record for consecutive victories in the modern era of five-game matches. NU produced 36 victories in 1976 when all matches were played as two-out-of-three contests.

Final

After falling behind 2-1 to Wisconsin, Nebraska breezed to a 15-2 win in the fourth game to force a rally-scoring fifth game for the national title. With senior Kim Behrends at the service line, Laura Pilakowski slammed her 23rd kill of the match to secure the championship. Pilakowski was joined on the NCAA All-Tournament team by classmates Greichaly Cepero and Amber Holmquist. Cepero added 52 assists, eight digs, eight kills and seven blocks, while Holmquist added 16 kills on a .387 hitting efficiency with five blocks.

Highlighting the 2000 Season

- Nebraska claimed its 23rd Big Eight/Big 12 championship in 25 seasons. With a 20-0 run through the league, the Huskers improved their all-time mark against Big 12 schools to 375-32-1, an amazing .920 winning percentage.

- Nebraska, ranked No. 1 in the AVCA/USA Today Coaches poll for 14 straight weeks, swept 26 of its 34 opponents and 17 of its 20 conference opponents, losing just five games in Big 12 play. Only three teams took NU to five games.

- Amber Holmquist shattered three Nebraska single-season blocking records, setting new marks with 199 block assists, 220 total blocks and 1.98 blocks per game. Holmquist also broke the Big 12 record for total blocks in a single game with 16 at Texas on Oct. 22.

- Nebraska bettered its own then-NCAA record for single-match home attendance, as 12,504 fans cheered the Huskers to a 3-0 win over Colorado, Nov. 4, at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

Quoting Coach John Cook

"If there are 10 teams better than us, I think it's going to be a heck of a year in college volleyball, because believe me, we're going to be pretty good."

– Cook before the 2000 season

1995 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

One Goal - One Team - One Champion

Nebraska entered the season with one goal in mind, win the national championship. Led by a talented trio of seniors, the Huskers capped their championship run by hammering Texas 3-1 in the title match. After three previous trips to the NCAA Championships, the Huskers' incredible drive and focus fueled them to their first national title.

Kate Crnich set career bests with 25 kills and 21 digs in NU's title match victory over Texas.

Semifinals

In the first match, Nebraska countered a 10-15 loss in game one, by winning the second and third games, 15-8. Michigan State responded to NU's challenge, winning the fourth game, 15-9. In the fifth and decisive game, with the score deadlocked at 7-7, NU scored four consecutive points, forging to an 11-7 lead. The Spartans added one more point, but the Huskers prevailed, 15-8. Allison Weston led the Husker charge, recording a team-high 30 kills.

Final

In the finals, Texas jumped to an early 12-4 lead in game one, but the Huskers rallied to make it close, losing 10-15. Although they lost the first game, the Huskers gained momentum, playing solidly at the end of the game. NU cruised to wins in games two and three, thumping the Longhorns, 15-2 and 15-7. Game four swayed back and forth, but the Huskers persevered, sealing NU's first national title with a 16-14 victory. Billie Winsett and Kate Crnich led the way, posting 25 kills each. Crnich's 25 kills were a career high, hitting .500 for the match.

Highlighting the 1995 Season

• After losing its second match of the season to then-No. 1 Stanford, NU reeled off 31 consecutive matches to claim the NCAA title. An amazing 28 of Nebraska's 32 victories were 3-0 wins.

• Not only did Nebraska claim its first-ever national championship, the Huskers posted school records for wins and winning percentage that would stand until the 2000 season. Nebraska finished with a 32-1 (.970) record, bettering the .969 percentage it posted in 1994 (31-1). NU also matched the then-school record for wins, equalling the 1990 squad's record total of 32.

• Allison Weston shattered Eileen Shannon's Husker school record for career kills (1,521), finishing her career with 1,778.

• Nebraska bettered its own NCAA record for single-match home attendance, as 11,529 cheered the Huskers to a 3-0 win over Colorado, Oct. 21, at the Devaney Center. NU set the previous record of 11,032, Sept. 14, 1991, also at the Devaney Center. The mark would stand until the 2000 season.

Quoting Coach Terry Pettit

"We certainly should be strong. We have great senior leadership in Allison Weston, Billie Winsett and Christy Johnson. We were 31-1 last season (1994), and I think we're going to be better this year."

– Pettit before the 1995 season

A Second Time

After a two-year hiatus, Nebraska seniors Virginia Stahr and Carla Baker led NU to its second appearance at the NCAA Championships. In 1986, the Huskers had advanced to the championship match before losing to Pacific. In 1989, NU was hoping for better luck in Honolulu, Hawaii. But fate was not on Nebraska's side. The Husker hitters made quick work of UCLA, before losing, 3-0, to Long Beach State.

NCAA Championships

A balanced Husker attack and solid defensive play propelled Nebraska past a UCLA team that had lost just two matches all season. Cris Hall led NU with 19 kills, while Janet Kruse had 12, Eileen Shannon had 11 and Virginia Stahr added 10. NU out-hit UCLA .265 to .160.

Unfortunately, Nebraska's second championship match was much like its first in 1986. Nebraska battled hard in the first game, only to lose 15-12. From that point on, the Huskers could not regain their winning ways, as Long Beach State cruised, 15-0, 15-6 to win the match. Shannon led Nebraska with 11 kills, and Hall added 10.

1989 Season Highlights

• Virginia Stahr captured several awards in 1989 including Delta Scholar Athlete of the Year, Woody Hayes Female Athlete of the Year, Big Eight Female Athlete of the Year and the NCAA Today's Top Six Award.

• Nebraska set team records in 1989 with 2,031 kills, 1,803 assists and a 17.07 kills per game average.

• Nebraska won its 14th consecutive Big Eight title with a perfect 12-0 record. NU won the tournament crown with a 3-0 win over Oklahoma.

• The Huskers started the year with a season high 14-match winning streak.

Breakthrough Season

After losing in the Mideast Regional final the previous two seasons, Nebraska broke through the field in 1986 and made its first-ever trip to the NCAA championship. Led by senior All-Americans Karen Dahlgren, Tisha Delaney and Enid Schonewise, the Big Eight champion Huskers traveled to Stockton, Calif., with an impressive 28-5 record. The Huskers defeated Stanford, 3-1, before falling to Pacific, 3-0.

NCAA Championships

In the semifinals, Schonewise led the Husker attack with 15 kills, while Angie Millikin had 11 kills and a match-high 18 digs. Nebraska hit .258 for the match and held the Cardinal to just .089 hitting.

In the championship match, Nebraska met a Pacific team that had lost just one game during the entire NCAA Tournament. The Huskers hung tough in game one, coming back from a 14-9 deficit to cut the margin to two at 14-12. But the Tigers were too much, as they converted their third game point for the 15-12 win. The first game took too much out of the Huskers, as they fell in games two and three by scores of 15-4, 15-4.

1986 Season Highlights

• Nebraska set four single-season team records, including most kills, attacks, hitting percentage and digs. Schonewise set individual season records for kills, kills per game and attacks.

• The Huskers set an NCAA record with a .331 hitting percentage, a mark that still ranks in the top-15 all time.

• Nebraska won its 11th straight Big Eight championship in 1986 with a 10-0 record and defeated Oklahoma, 3-0, for the tournament trophy in Salina, Kan.

NU Reaches NCAA Semifinals

Nebraska fell two wins shy in its bid to repeat as national champions, as U.S. National Team member Logan Tom pounded 22 kills to lead Stanford to a 3-0 win over NU in the NCAA semifinals. The loss capped an otherwise successful season for the Huskers, who were 31-2 overall and 20-0 in the Big 12 Conference, dropping just three games in conference play. NU Coach John Cook was named Big 12 Coach of the Year, and Nancy Metcalf (Meendering) was named the Big 12 Player of the Year.

NCAA Regional

The Huskers' eighth semifinal bid did not come easy. After breezing to wins in games one and two, Nebraska dropped the next two games to Florida to tie the match. NU, which had not played a five-game match all year, trailed 12-10 when Nancy Metcalf responded with back-to-back kills to even the score. After a Florida service error, Metcalf pounded another kill to bring Nebraska within a point of the win. All-American Aury Cruz held NU off with a kill, but Metcalf answered on the next rally with her 25th kill of the match.

Near Repeat

Despite the loss of three standout seniors who guided Nebraska to its first national title in 1995, and injuries to three key players, the Huskers nearly became the first team to repeat as NCAA champions since UCLA turned the trick in 1990 and 1991.

NU fell only two matches shy of back-to-back national championships, dropping a hard-fought decision to eventual champion Stanford in the national semifinals.

NCAA Semifinals

The 30-3 Huskers faced top-seeded Stanford (29-2), which featured four AVCA All-Americans. Nebraska won the first game, 15-9, but the Cardinal amassed large leads in each of the next three games, securing a 3-1 win. Two days later, the Cardinal swept Hawaii for the national title. Back-to-Back

For the second consecutive year, Nebraska returned to the NCAA Championships, only to be ousted one match short of the finals. Once again, as it did in 1986, Pacific sent the Huskers home with a 3-1 loss. It was the Tigers' second victory of the season against Nebraska, as the Tigers defeated the Huskers 3-1 in an early season tournament.

NCAA Semifinals

A close match throughout, Nebraska and Pacific's intense game one set the tone. Nebraska led 13-11, but saw the Tigers score four unanswered points and claim the crucial first game. The Huskers rebounded for a 15-11 win in game two, scoring the game's final three points. Games three and four were equally competitive, but the Tigers had the stamina to thwart Nebraska's attack, winning 15-9 and 15-12. Cris Hall led NU with 18 kills, while Val Novak had 46 assists and a match-high 17 digs. Krissy Fifer led the Pacific attack with 21 kills.

1990 Season Highlights

- In terms of winning percentage, Nebraska finished with its then-best season ever at 32-3 (.914). Before losing to Pacific in the semifinals, Nebraska had won 16 straight contests.
- Nebraska set team records in block assists (558) and opponent hitting percentage (.135).
- Nebraska won its 15th consecutive Big Eight title with a perfect 12-0 record and the tournament crown with a win over Colorado.

Her teams went 48-0 in regular-season conference play, winning four Big Eight titles and three conference tournament championships. Thater was a two-time Big Eight Player of the Year and a three-time all-conference selection. She holds school records for block assists in a five-game match with 14. Her season records for block assists (165), total blocks (197) and blocks per game (1.92) stood for seven years before Amber Holmquist topped them in 2000, and her career records for block assists (502) and total blocks (591) stood until 2002.

Cris Hall is one of only five athletes and the only female in Nebraska history to earn All-America honors in two different sports. Hall was a second-team All-American as an outside hitter in 1991, and earned four All-America track certificates from 1991 to 1993 (three high jump, one heptathlon). Hall still holds the NU all-time outdoor track records in the high jump (6-2 1/4) and heptathlon (5,936 points). Her career-high 30 kills against Ohio State still rank among Nebraska's top-20 performances. Her 1,251 career kills rank ninth in school history.

Janet Kruse is one of the finest student-athletes to ever play for the Huskers. A native of Fort Calhoun, Neb., Kruse was Nebraska's first three-time All-American, earning first-team honors in 1989 and 1990 and second-team honors in 1991. She was also named the NCAA Woman of the Year for Nebraska and garnered an NCAA Today Top Eight award in 1992, after twice earning CoSIDA Academic All-American-of-the-Year honors in 1990 and 1991. She also earned third-team academic All-America honors in 1989. During her career, the Huskers made two NCAA semifinal appearances, including a title appearance in 1989. She finished with 778 career kills, holds the school record for career service aces (161), and ranks sixth in digs (1,068) and fourth in set assists (3,303). Virginia Stahr, 1988, 1989

Middle Blocker, Waco, Neb.

Virginia Stahr set the standard for excellence in the Nebraska volleyball program as a standout athlete and student. Stahr was tabbed a two-time All-American and capped her career by leading the Huskers to a national runner-up finish in 1989. She earned the NCAA Today Top Eight award after earning CoSIDA Academic All-American-of-the-Year honors in 1988 and 1989. Her teams won four Big Eight regular-season titles and three conference tournament titles, and she was named the 1989 Big Eight Player of the Year. She still shares the school record for service aces in a five-game match (7), while her 31 kills vs. Texas rank 16th on the all-time single-match charts. She also ranks second in school history in career service aces (159) and solo blocks (106), fifth in total blocks (555) and seventh in block assists (449).

Lori Endicott, 1987, 1988

Setter, Springfield, Mo.

Lori Endicott is one of most decorated setters in Nebraska's long line of All-America setters. Endicott earned first-team honors as a senior and was a second-team selection as a junior after playing right side her first two seasons. Endicott continued her playing career as a member of the U.S. National Team from 1988 to 1996. She was America's starting setter at the 1992 and 1996 Olympic Games and was named the best setter at the Barcelona Games after leading the United States to a bronze medal. A two-time Big Eight Player of the Year, Endicott led Nebraska to four Big Eight regular-season titles during her career. She was also named a 1988 CoSIDA Academic All-American. Several of Endicott's marks may stand untouched for years, including her school-record 109 assists vs. Texas.

Tisha Delaney, 1986

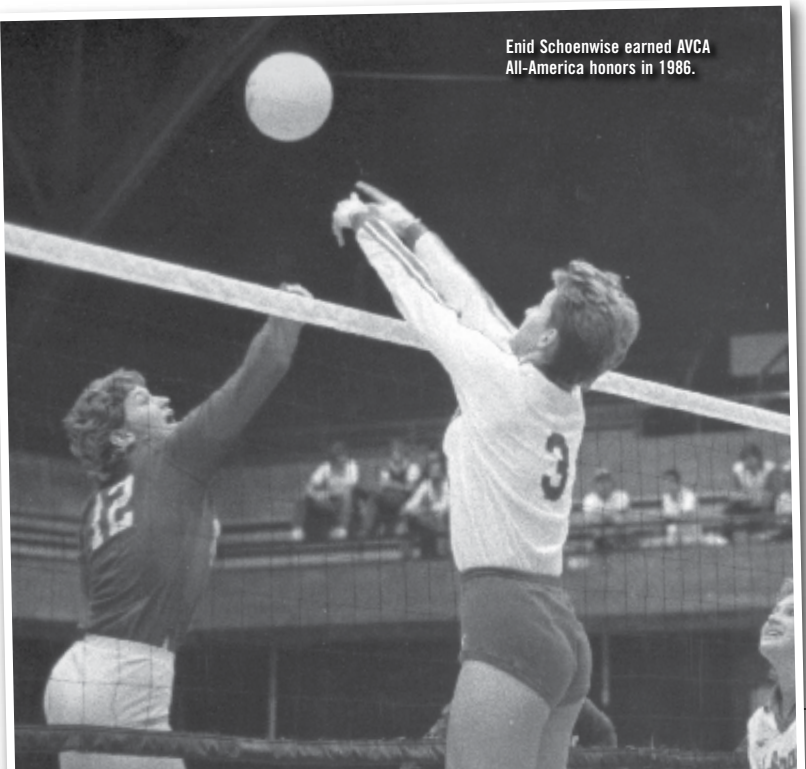
Setter, Festus, Mo.

Tisha Delaney is responsible for leading Nebraska to its first NCAA semifinal appearance in 1986, where the Huskers defeated Stanford before losing to Pacific in the title match. An AVCA second-team All-American as a senior, Delaney set school records as a senior for assists in four-game (63) and five-game matches (88), both of which Lori Endicott surpassed in 1988. Delaney still ranks among the Husker single-season top 10 in service aces (49), and assists (1,433) as well as career assists (2,605).

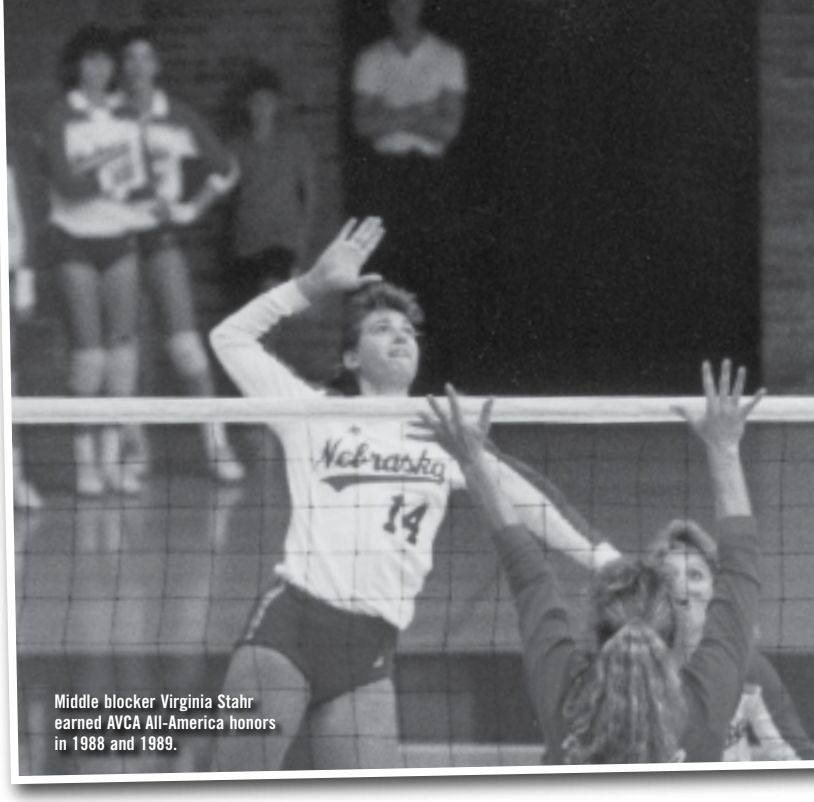
Enid Schonewise, 1986

Outside Hitter, Beatrice, Neb.

Enid Schonewise earned second-team All-America honors and first-team All-Big Eight honors in 1986. Schonewise established one of the program's oldest school records by slamming 38 kills against Arizona State, which stood until 1999. She also ranks among the Husker single-season top 10 in kills (493) and total attacks (1,076).



Enid Schoenwise earned AVCA All-America honors in 1986.



Middle blocker Virginia Stahr earned AVCA All-America honors in 1988 and 1989.

Karen Dahlgren, 1985, 1986

Middle Blocker, Bertrand, Neb.

Karen Dahlgren played a key role in Nebraska's 1986 national runner-up finish. A two-time All-American, Dahlgren was honored as a Honda-Sport Award winner in volleyball after being named to the CoSIDA Academic All-America team three straight years. Dahlgren holds school records for solo blocks in three- and four-game matches. She also holds the top two single-season solo block marks as well as NU's career solo block record. She ranks sixth on the all-time total blocks chart with 550. The Bertrand native is also third in school history with a career hitting percentage of .386. She is one of only three players to lead the Huskers in a statistical category (blocks) all four years.

Annie Adamczak, 1985

Middle Blocker, Moose Lake, Minn.

Annie Adamczak was a three-year starter in the Nebraska volleyball program and capped her career by earning first-team All-America honors as a senior after leading the Huskers with 354 digs. She is one of four Nebraska volleyball players to be named the conference Female Athlete of the Year, joining Virginia Stahr in 1989, Greichaly Cepero in 2001 and Sarah Pavan in 2006 and 2007. A two-time All-Big Eight selection, Adamczak holds the three-game school record with 28 digs against Montana. During Adamczak's career, Nebraska won all four regular-season and tournament conference titles and twice advanced to the NCAA Mideast Regional Championship.

Cathy Noth, 1983, 1984

Setter, Bettendorf, Iowa

Cathy Noth moved from outside hitter to setter her junior season and earned AVCA All-America honors in 1983 and 1984. Noth guided NU to its first NCAA Tournament appearance in 1982 and helped Nebraska compile a four-year-record of 112-24, winning four Big Eight regular-season titles and four Big Eight Tournament crowns. She set a then-Big Eight and school record with a .398 hitting percentage in 1984. Noth's career hitting percentage of .366 still ranks fourth in school history. Noth was also Nebraska's first three-time All-Big Eight selection and the only volleyball player in the history of the conference to earn three Big Eight Tournament MVP awards. Noth served as an assistant coach under Terry Pettit from 1988 to 1998.

Terri Kanouse, 1980 (AIAW)

Middle Blocker, St. Paul, Ind.

Terri Kanouse helped put Nebraska on the volleyball map by earning AIAW All-America honors in 1980, the program's first national honor.
